New England Business Rebels Against Goose Stepping Regulations

PROVIDENCE — A look-see at this grand and ancient industrial area where New Englanders began to harness machinery while the West was still a fenceless prairie, discloses three definite developments regarding the New Deal.

1. The President, himself, is still as popular personally as he ever was, more so than at the time of his election. If another election were held tomorrow he would be swept back into office by an overwhelming vote.

2. Business on the whole is good and looks like it would continue so. Business indexes in the rest of the country—car loadings, bank clearance, commodity prices indicate that this condition is universal.

ARTICLE DELAYED

H. R. Knickerbocker's popular series of articles, "Will War Come?", which has been occupying this space, was delayed in transmission from New York so will not appear today. It is hoped the difficulty will be righted so the series can be continued Friday.

3. Despite these two factors, there is an increasing groundswell of resentment against the restrictions which the Roosevelt Administration is placing against business. This latter is the outstanding development regarding the New Deal in New England. And judging from reports from other areas, it is true everywhere.

The honeymoon days when Roosevelt could write his own ticket as far as economic adjustment was concerned are now a matter of history. Lip service to the President continues, but support for his attempts to guide the business phase of the Recovery Program is definitely out the window.

The Line-Up

The revolt of business goes right down the line. It is most vehement against the Stock Market Bill. In fact the outcry against this "iniquitous" piece of legislation is so great that the once-battered Securities Act becomes tame and harmless in contrast. Small-time businessmen, who never trade on the Street, and wouldn't know a bucket-shop from J. P. Morgan's office, have joined the hue and cry—not because they are affected—but because they have their backs up against the bogey of government regulation.

Here in high-tariff New England, the bill to give Roosevelt tariff bargaining powers, is equally distrusted. Even though the President is permitted to alter rates only fifty per cent, the New England businessman places the bill in the same category as old-time "Witchcraft."

The Wagner Labor Board Bill is called "dictatorial"—a sentiment strongly echoed in Detroit, Pittsburgh and other industrial areas. Employers feel that it would unionize every industry in the country, that this condition is devoutly to be avoided, that it would give Labor even more power than in the Labor-dominated countries of New Zealand and Australia.

The NRA is universally praised as giving great benefits to business, but the Roosevelt-Johnson proposal to curtail hours of labor to increase employment is bucked by almost every industrialist in business. There is also considerable suspicion regarding the way General Johnson is intervening in the automobile strike situation, and the feeling that as far as the Government is concerned, Labor is getting all the breaks.

Two New Facts

From this rebellion, two salient facts stand out.

1. A lot of people don't like to march in goosestep. This applies not merely to businessmen. There has been a definite resentment against the snap-judgment tramping down of the traditional American right of a public hearing before cancelling the Air Mail contracts. There has been a suspicion that the Administration might trample on other rights elsewhere.

2. Probably more important, it is a paradoxical fact that the more prosperous business becomes, the greater its rebellion against the New Deal.

COUNCIL READS 48-CENT GAS MEASURE; HALTS WATER VOTE

Ordinance Referred to Committee to Await Decision
HILMER PRESENT

Marion Opposes Delay in Action on Water

Council took action toward consummation of a new gas contract, Wednesday evening, when an ordinance was reported out of committee and read for the first time. It was immediately referred to the ordinance committee without discussion.

An ordinance must be read three times before it is subject to a vote unless rules are suspended and the measure ticketed as an emergency. Councilman W. M. Reid, chairman of the ordinance committee, where the measure was started, said council does not intend to push the ordinance through but will hold it in readiness awaiting "more judicial decisions which are expected in other controversies." Mr. Reid pointed out that council does not desire a fight either in court or in the utilities commission with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

CALLS FOR 48 CENTS

The ordinance as read the first time calls for 75 cents for the first 500 cubic feet with no discount and 48 cents for each 1,000 cubic feet over 500 cubic feet, subject to a 3 cent per 1,000 discount. The present average price paid for gas is slightly more than 70 cents per 1,000. This rate contract has been 'dead' since March 22, 1931, just three years ago today. Since that time negotiations have gone on and on. The nearest a new contract came to being in effect was last December, when council passed an ordinance only to have it when the gas company, facing a referendum vote, failed to approve a minor change made by the council. The ordinance was later repealed by the new council.

The water ordinance question resulted in a heated session with the result being that the ordinance was not called out for third reading. Councilman Frank A. Marion took exception to the fact that the ordinance was not read the third time saying that he could not understand council's delay after it had agreed to accept the contract. The ordinance has been read twice.

CITES AGREEMENT

Mr. Marion argued that council had met as a committee and decided that instead of immediately passing its own water ordinance it would seek negotiations with the water company. This was done, he pointed out, with the result that reductions in water hydrant rental and sprinkler system costs were embodied in an ordinance. He said council had agreed to accept the ordinance and that he didn't believe in changing his mind on the question.

Engineer Hilmer, of Fossick and Hilmer, Cincinnati, met with council and recommended that the water ordinance should contain a reduction of the cost to domestic consumers. This resulted in the ordinance being withheld. One councilman said, Thursday, that another meeting with W. A. Dark, Ohio Water Service Co. official, will be sought in the near future.

SOUTH CHARLESTON, March 22.—After a year of bickering, the South Charleston council and village officials today had reached an agreement with the officials of the Dayton Light & Power company for the village water works' system. The agreement gives the village a lower rate.

Under the agreement, the village will settle power bills, amounting to $500 and will receive a reduction in rate of from four to three cents per kilowatt hour, the rate being retroactive to Jan. 1, 1934.

Seneca-co Alters Its Political Plan; Off Pickrel's List

TIFFIN, March 22.—The Seneca-co Democratic executive committee today had rescinded its endorsement of former Lieutenant Governor William C. Pickrel as a nominee for the governorship of Ohio.

The committee voted 16 to 3 last night on the motion made by F. A. Hinchey, committeeman, to rescind the committee's action last Dec. 18, backing Pickrel. Hinchey, in making his motion, said that when the endorsement was made, Lieutenant Governor Charles Sawyer and former Congressman Martin L. Davey had not announced their candidacies, and that he believed it would be in the best interest of the party if no endorsement was made until the primary.

BLIZZARD HITS CITY AS 1,000 DIE IN FLAMES

150,000 Homeless in Northern Japanese City After 'Living Hell'

LOSS 15 MILLIONS

No Word Heard From 2 American Missionaries

TOKYO, March 22.—A freezing gale and blizzard-like snows added to the intense suffering of 150,000 residents of the seaport Hakodate, largest city in northern Japan, who were homeless today following a devastating fire which destroyed four-fifths of the city and took a toll of lives officially estimated at more than 1,000.

Quick-piling snowdrifts which settled over the ruins of 25,000 homes while they still were smoldering hindered the work of the military marshaled to administer relief, and made difficult the search for the bodies of further victims believed to have perished. Survivors, fleeing before the flames, which spread rapidly through the frame dwellings before a 70-mile-an-hour gale, rushed to the seashore and clambered aboard ships in the harbor for protection.

CAUSED BY CHIMNEY

The fire began at 7 p. m. yesterday when the chimney of a bath house was blown over, setting fire to a neighboring house. Soon all Hakodate, a city of 200,000 population, was a raging inferno which the mayor described in a radio message as "a living hell."

The fire, comprising one of the worst conflagrations in Japan's history, was finally checked at 5 o'clock this morning, after 10 hours, but still raged in the suburbs.

The government rushed four destroyers and two supply ships from the Ominato naval base carrying food, clothing and medicine. The supplies included 20,000 blankets and 500 boxes of food.

Traffic Court Adds Dollars

'Light Crashers' Feel Wrath As Cady Hands Out Fines For First Offenses.

Mayor William E. Cady's court has been kept busy with traffic violators during the past few days with 'light-crashers' depositing $1 to help the city's finances along. No drive against violators has been ordered by the Mayor but his policemen have orders to put out tags to all violators.

Those who have paid $1 fines in the past few days are Dr. C. C. Beale, Ed Owens, Carl Wallace, and Aaron Lampe, while E. E. Porter has been fined $3 for parking too near a fire hydrant and on the sidewalk.

BUENOS AIRES, O., March 22.—A campaign against traffic law violations today was ordered by city council after complaints have been received that red light crashing and disregarding of through-street stops had become a "habitual" practice.

PATROLMAN'S WIFE PAYS TO KEEP HER RIVAL IN JAIL CELL

CHICAGO, March 22.—Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, former collector of internal revenue, occupied a county jail cell today because she failed to pay a $7,500 judgment awarded Mrs. Susanne Nottingham for alienating the affections of the latter's policeman-husband, Norman.

Mrs. Blackledge faces a six months' stay in the jail unless the patrol wagon driver's wife tires of paying 50 cents a day for the prisoner's upkeep. Mrs. Nottingham has paid $3.50 in advance.

J. E. Weiser, prominent Walnut-twp man, is in critical condition in White Cross hospital, Columbus. He is suffering from a complication of diseases.

Husband Near Breakdown as Actress Dies

LILYAN TASHMAN.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Edmund Lowe, actor husband of Lilyan Tashman, glamorous screen star who died here yesterday, was reported today to be on the verge of a breakdown at the home of Mrs. Tiffany Saportas, where he has been in seclusion since his wife's death.

He could not be reached for information concerning funeral arrangements, but friends said Lowe was undecided whether the rites would be held in Hollywood or in Miss Tashman's native Brooklyn. A definite announcement of funeral arrangements probably will be forthcoming later in the day, it was said.

Lowe and Miss Tashman were planning to spend a vacation in Connecticut when the actress contracted the ailment described as a tumorous condition which cut short her career.

Her latest picture, entitled "Riptide," is scheduled to open at a Broadway theater on Friday of next week.

CROSBY CHILD UNDER GUARD

Police Act as Hollywood Man Reports Overhearing Kidnap Plot.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 22.—Police today were on guard at the Bing Crosby home near Toluca lake, against kidnapers who, it was reported, had planned to "snatch" the singer-actor's 9-month-old son, Gary Evan Crosby.

The guards were detailed to the Crosby home by Capt. Bert Wallis of the homicide squad, after Capt. Wallace read the report of W. Vincent Noice, who overheard two suspected kidnapers conferring in an interurban station.

AL SMITH QUILTS EDITORIAL POST

NEW YORK, March 22.—Business interests were given as the sole reason for his resignation as editor-in-chief of the "New Outlook" by Alfred E. Smith in correspondence made public today by Tichenor, publisher of the periodical.

There was no indication in the correspondence that the resignation of the former Democratic presidential nominee had resulted from a disagreement with the editorial policy of the magazine. Tichenor is a Republican.

Rotarians To Hear Dayton Speaker Discuss Retail Merchants' Problems

What merchants in other places are doing about their merchandising problems will be a part of the information revealed by F. J. Nichols, Dayton, in an address he is scheduled to give on Thursday, March 29, before the Rotary Club.

Mr. Nichols was invited to address the meeting because of his wide knowledge of the retailer's problems. As director of the Merchants Service Bureau of the National Cash Register company, he has devoted many years to the study of retail store methods, and to the science of retail merchandising.

How business men are adjusting to the requirements of the N. R. A. and A. A. A. will be a major point of Mr. Nichols' message.

AIRPORT PLANS WIN SANCTION; USE $20,580

Work to Start About April 1 as Approval of Project is Announced

UNDER FERA PLAN

Expenses to Be Care for by Government

Start of construction of the "Circleville Municipal Airport" about April 1 was assured today when it was announced state officials had approved plans for the local port. The office of A. J. Dunkel, Civil Works administrator, announced the approval.

The airport will be located on land owned by S. C. Elisea, Tarlton, north of the city limits between the Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western railroad tracks. The land, 79.93 acres, has been leased by the city for $1 a year plus the taxes which the local chapter of the National Aeronautics association will handle.

QUOTA CUT TO 200

Pickaway-co's Civil Works quota will number 200 persons, Friday, a reduction of 11 persons from the present number of employees.

The entire project will be financed by the federal government from a grant allowed for airports over the nation. Fred Smith, chief of the Ohio aviation department, has been one of the boosters for the project here and so has Lieut. Joe Mackey, veteran pilot, who broached the possibility of a Circleville airport to Attorney Tom A. Renick. The latter conferred with Forrest Valentine, president of the NAA, and together they carried the project forward finally submitting it to the chapter for approval after city council had agreed to the plan.

The total cost of the airport will be $20,580. The CWA office estimated labor to cost $16,331.10, equipment, $3,000, and materials, $1,249.

Work will include clearing, grading, draining, seeding, fencing, and marking.

The project, which will be under the FERA, effective April 1 has the hearty approval of the state office.

LIMA, March 22.—Work on the $45,000 municipal airport CWA project here, providing jobs for 300 men for 10 weeks, will start next Monday, J. C. Timberlake, Allen-co relief director, announced today. State CWA officials have approved the project, Timberlake said.

BUSH'S MEN HUNT DILLINGER AS CLARK TRIAL PROGRESSES

"Tired of Waiting," Chief of Lima Guards Says Ordering Men To Scour County; Fear Clark May Try To Escape From Courtroom.

LIMA, March 22.—Hand-picked rifle squads of National Guardsmen were scouring the countryside today in a hunt for John Dillinger, fugitive desperado, while extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent Russell Clark, Dillinger henchman now on trial for first degree murder, from making a break for liberty.

HOUSE OUSTS REFUND BILL

Municipal Bond Measure Defeated 53-40; Cleveland Mayor Sought Move.

COLUMBUS, March 22.—The state House of Representatives today refused to concur in the report of the joint conference committee on the municipal bond refund bill which would have permitted municipalities to temporarily divert money from their bond sinking funds for current operating expenses.

The vote on the measure was 53 for and 40 against. Sixty-eight votes were required to put the report across.

Rep. Keith Lawrence (D) of Cleveland, author of the bill, indicated that he would ask for another conference committee.

On a motion of Rep. Lawrence, the House, without a record vote, agreed to ask the Senate to join in the appointment of a new conference committee which will endeavor to put the bill in such shape that approval of both houses can be obtained.

Rep. Horace Keifer (R) of Springfield, attempted to block appointment of a second conference committee by objecting to consideration of the Lawrence motion. He was overridden by Speaker Frank Cave, however.

Ernestly sought by the city of Cleveland, whose Mayor Harry L. Davis has told the legislature that unless the refund bill is passed, the Ohio metropolis will be forced to cut its public services in half by July 1, the measure was as forcefully opposed by representatives of rural districts who described it as establishing a dangerous precedent which would jeopardize all Ohio municipal bonds.

NEVADA GOVERNOR, GAMBLING-DIVORCE SPONSOR, DIES AT 53

CARSON CITY, Nev., March 22.—Nevada, desert state, today mourned the death of its governor, Frederick Bennett Balzar, 53. Republican, a noted western liberal and advocate of legalized gambling and "quick" divorces.

Gov. Balzar died late yesterday in the executive mansion here after a long and valiant battle for health.

He started as a miner and railroad fireman in the state of which he became chief executive in 1927.

2 Enter Reformatory

Sheriff Charles Radcliff took Paul Redman, Wayne-twp, and Leo Alexander, Lancaster, to the Ohio reformatory at Mansfield, Thursday, where they begin sentences of one to 20 years on charges of forgery and auto theft, respectively.

Dick Denman accompanied the sheriff.

"I'm tired of waiting for Dillinger," said Brig. Gen. Harold M. Bush in command of the soldiers. "Now we're going out to get him and get him we will if he is in the vicinity. We might lose a few men if he resists capture, but once we corner him, he won't get away."

FEARS CLARK'S DASH

Gen. Bush feared, too, he said, that Clark might throw caution to the winds and make a bold dash for liberty while he is being led to and from the courtroom where he is on trial for alleged complicity in the slaying of Sheriff Jess Barber during the Dillinger jail delivery last Oct. 12.

Two crack gunners, armed with "tommy" guns, were assigned today by Gen. Bush to watch the accused killer when he is taken from his cell to the courthouse. Gen. Bush pointed out that Clark continually is tugging at his handcuffs and ankle manacles in his waking moments in the courtroom. Twice during yesterday's hearing, the desperado dropped into sleep. Once when a nudge from one of his attorneys awakened him, Clark commented, "Aw hell."

First damaging testimony against Clark was introduced by the state after a jury of eleven men and one woman was seated.

Chillicothe Senator in Field; Pfeiffer Seeks Second Term In Senate.

Garrett S. Claypool, Chillicothe, a leader of the Democratic party in the Eleventh Ohio Congressional district, finds opposition to his candidacy for district Committeeman in his own city.

Senator James E. Ford, "daddy" of the school book lobby probe, has announced himself as a candidate against Mr. Claypool. Friction in Ross-co circles between these two men has been apparent quite a while with Mr. Ford often declaring he will oppose Mr. Claypool for the district "honorary" post. There is no salary attached to the job.

The district includes Pickaway, Ross, Fairfield, Hocking, and Perry-cos.

Robert E. Pfeiffer, Columbus, serving his first term as Ohio senator from the Franklin-Pickaway district, has announced himself as a candidate for reelection. His running-mate, Paul Gingham, also of Columbus, has not made known his plans.

Green to Lead A. F. of L. Men Into Parley

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Labor answered President Roosevelt's call for a conference seeking peace in the strife ridden automotive industry here today.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, William Collins, A. F. of L. representative in Detroit, and representatives of the 13 automobile labor unions gathered for the meeting with Mr. Roosevelt.

Today's parley, scheduled for early afternoon, came 24 hours after the president called motor executives here to discuss the same problem.

STRIKE DELAYED

Meanwhile, workers held in abeyance until conferences are concluded, a general strike in the automobile industry. Whether the strike is called off or ordered later will depend upon the president's success or failure in settling the knotty dispute between executives and labor over recognition of unions.

The White House today was distinctly optimistic of success in bringing an amicable end to the dispute. Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, who sat through the president's meeting with the auto chiefs, told Secretary of Commerce Roper afterward that

New Enrollment to Start With CWA Director in Charge; Quota 13,500.

Pickaway-co's quota in the new enrollment for the Civilian Conservation Corps is 18. It has been announced in Columbus. A. J. Dunkel, CWA chief who will have charge of the enrollment, declared a week ago that he believed that number would be allotted the county.

Enlistments are now being taken after instructions from the state office. The new corps will begin its work during April and May.

Ohio's quota is 13,500 youths. The Ohio relief commission has fixed the tentative quota of new men at 6,750 as it is believed that many more youths who are now in the camps will re-enlist.

The first contingent of Ohioans to the CCC camps will be sent to Camp Knox, Ky., April 2. Other groups will follow from time to time.

48 RESCUED FROM COUNTY HOME FIRE

NAPOLÉON, March 22.—Forty-eight inmates were led to safety when fire, starting from defective wiring, gutted the main wing of the Henry-co home here and caused damages estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000.

No one was injured in the conflagration.

The building wing was built about 50 years ago. It was partially covered by insurance and, according to Charles Riggs, superintendent of the home, will be rebuilt. Meanwhile, the inmates were quartered in the home's new wing.

LOSS 15 MILLIONS

Tokyo insurance companies estimated the property loss at 50,000,000 yen (approximately $15,000,000), adding that this was a conservative figure.

Dozens of American, British, Russian, and German business men and missionaries regularly reside in Hakodate. Because of the difficulty of communication with the stricken city, their plight was not immediately known.

Among the missionary group in Hakodate were Miss Mary Collins, of Philadelphia, and Miss Alice Cheney, of Missouri, both teachers.

The Russian and British consulates were burned. The condition of the meat packing plant of Carl Raymon, formerly of Chicago, was not learned immediately.

Telegraph lines were cut almost immediately as the telegraph offices were burned. News of the disaster came from the Ochishii radio station, and was brief.

Eight banks, three department stores, five gas and electric light and power plants, all government buildings, many temples and Christian churches, five shipyards, and schools and factories were among the buildings razed.

American Ambassador Joseph C. Grew called on Foreign Minister Hirota to express the sympathy of the American government.

Army airplanes flew over the devastated city in a survey of conditions and to drop emergency relief supplies for use pending arrival of the navy ships.

Hakodate is a comparatively new city, the chief community of Hokkaido island, just north of the main island of Japan.

An important naval base and commercial port, the city is the largest seaport in northern Japan.

Simple Foods Using Milk

We always are eager to pass on to someone else the news of more ways to use milk. It is such a notoriously good thing for all of us to get more milk in our daily diet that we won't take time to tell you why you should use more of it.

Have you ever tried Salmon Fritters? Sift together 1 1/2 C. flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. cayenne pepper, 1/4 tsp. salt and add one well-beaten egg, 3/4 C. milk, 1 C. salmon (drained and minced) and the juice of half a lemon. Beat well together and drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry until a golden brown. Serve with tartar sauce or chili sauce.

Escalloped Cauliflower and Ham

1 1/2 C. milk
1/2 C. soft bread crumbs
2 Tbsp. butter
1/4 C. cooked ham, chopped

To the milk, add bread crumbs and cook over a low fire stirring until smooth. Remove from the fire; add butter, salt and pepper to taste. Into a well-greased baking dish, put alternate layers of cauliflower, bread sauce and ham. Bake in a moderate oven (400 degrees) for 15 to 20 minutes.

Savoy Pudding

Among the desserts made with milk, we find this Savoy Pudding. It is a fancy one, but it is well worth the little extra effort to make a dessert that is attractive and unusual.

4 egg yolks
2 1/2 C. milk
1 pkg. lemon gelatin
1 C. canned apricots, sliced

Combine egg yolks, sugar, salt and milk, and cook in a double boiler until mixture coats spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and sift gelatin in gradually, stirring until it dissolves. Strain into mold, filling 1 inch deep. Chill until firm. Dip lady fingers into part of the custard and line the mold. Fill the mold with apricots, custard and coconut. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serves 8.

Yankee Fluff

This dessert is less expensive and is much less trouble. It is a baked pudding that isn't as ordinary as bread pudding, and is it good!

1 C. soft bread crumbs
1 qt. milk, scalded
1/2 C. sugar
3 Tbsp. butter
3 C. seedless raisins

Soak crumbs in milk. Cool slightly and add sugar, butter, eggs, salt, flavoring and raisins. Pour mixture over marshmallows in buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 1 hour. Serve plain or with chocolate sauce, for six persons.

Tuna Celery Patties

A creamy dish to be served on patty shells or on toast is usually very acceptable at lunch time. This one is made with celery soup and flaked tuna fish.

1 Tbsp. fat
1/2 Tbsp. flour
1/2 C. milk
1 C. celery soup
1/2 tsp. pepper

Melt fat, add flour, and stir until well blended. Add milk and soup gradually, stirring constantly and cook until thick and smooth. Add pepper, pimiento and tuna fish. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve in patty shells or on thin toast.

Cause for Divorce

REDWOOD CITY, Cal.—Mrs. Jennie Chiw has been a close observer of the American scene since she came here from China. Her husband, Toy Chiw, San Mateo grocer, filed a divorce complaint in Superior Court here charging that his wife refused to obey him. "In China, wife has to obey husband," Mrs. Chiw told Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt. "In America she doesn't. She can boss him around."

BURNS LAKE, B. C.—Traffic rangers are not confined to the big cities or crowded highways. Mrs. Paddy Carrell, owner and driver of a fast dog team, discovered the wide open stretches about Decker Lake when she and her dog team encountered a bull moose on the trail. The eager dogs flew in pursuit, overturning the sleigh and tearing through brush and windfall until stopped by Mrs. Carrell, who was badly bruised and cut.

CHOCOLATE MINT CREAM

1 cup after dinner mint, crushed
20 chocolate wafers, crumbled

Put cranberries and whole orange through food chopper. Cover with the sugar, dissolve gelatin with water, when it begins to thicken, add fruit. Mold in individual molds and serve on crisp lettuce with mayonnaise.

CINNAMON TOAST

Toast thin slices of bread; spread with butter; sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar mixed together. Put in broiler to allow butter and sugar mixture to melt. Keep it warm in oven until ready to serve.

BROILED STEAK

Select a porterhouse, T-bone, or sirloin steak that is well marbled with fat. Pre-heat oven to 450 degrees. Place the broiling pan three-fourths from the top of burner, grease well; put steak on and broil it for 10 to 12 minutes, turn, broil on other side. Put on hot platter spreading the top with butter and seasoning well with salt and pepper. Pour the juices from broiling pan over it and send to the table piping hot. Do not serve the tough ends, save these to make meat pie the next day, thereby making the cost of meat for two days very reasonable even with the luxury of having had a steak dinner.

FRUIT COFFEE CAKE

2 tablespoons shortening
4 tablespoons sugar
1 2/3 cups flour
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix in order given, sitting on ingredients together, adding them alternately with milk. Put in oiled pan and cover top with peaches cut in quarters then sprinkle over the peaches this top: Crumble 1/4 cup of flour and 1 tablespoon of butter, add 1/2 cup sugar and 2 teaspoons of cinnamon. Bake 30 minutes in 375 degree oven.

PINK LADY SALAD

Allow two small halves of pears for each serving and one slice of pineapple. One package of cream cheese will make six servings. Make the cheese soft by adding a little cream, a tablespoon of lemon juice. Add salt and a dash of cayenne. Add 1/4 cup nut meats finely cut. Color a very delicate pink. Put two halves of pear together by spreading 1 tablespoon of the cheese mixture on one half, pressing the other half into this, allowing the pink mixture to come out between the two. Let chill thoroughly. Arrange crisp chilled lettuce on salad plates. Place one lettuce slice of pineapple, insert the bottom end of the pear into the center of the pineapple. Pour over it Golden Dressing, top with a bit of mint jelly. Serve with crisp crackers or your favorite quick bread as the main dish for a luncheon.

GOLDEN DRESSING

1-4 cup sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons corn starch
Juice of 1 lemon
Juice of 1 orange
1-4 cup fruit juice

Meringue

Beat the 2 egg whites until they hold in points. Beat in gradually 1 cup light brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon baking powder. Beat well, spread on raw cake batter and bake as directed.

FRENCH FRIED ONIONS

Use the large sweet onions sometimes called Spanish Onions. Peel and cut in about 1/4 inch slices, allow to soak in sweet milk 2 hours. Drain and separate the rings, roll into flour to which has been added salt and pepper and 1 teaspoon baking powder to a cup of flour. Fry in deep fat 350 degrees or when a cube of bread browns in 30 seconds. Drain on absorbent paper.

Delicious served with a cup of good tea.

MEAT PIE

Chef's Pastry

Add 1 tablespoon cream, mix well and line the mold into which the salad is to be molded with the cream mixture. Put the vegetables in. Let set. Unmold on crisp cold lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise.

POTATO PUFFS

1 cup mashed potatoes
2 eggs

Dredge in flour with a teaspoon of baking powder sifted in it, salt and pepper. Brown in frying pan using about two tablespoons of shortening. Put meat in small roaster, add a little water in pan the meat was browned in and pour over the meat and bake in 375 degree oven one hour. Serve on points of toast with a paper frill on each steak. This recipe makes six servings.

FRENCH COFFEE

The French like coffee made very strongly by allowing the water to drip through the very finely and very freshly ground coffee just once. This is known as the French Drip Method. For coffee made according to this method allow 1 rounding teaspoon to the cup of freshly boiling water.

ROLLED CHEESE SANDWICHES

Cut the crusts from regular sliced bread. Spread with butter and then with grated plain yellow cheese. Roll up like a jelly roll. Put open side down on a pan and toast in oven. A delicious accompaniment with salad or for afternoon tea.

The backbone, so to speak, of any salad is lettuce—have it crisp and cold. Cut it into the salad bowl. Add tomatoes cut in pieces, cucumbers, young onions, sliced celery. Sprinkle with salt and combine with French dressing or mayonnaise, tossing the vegetable over and over until well blended with the dressing. Serve very cold.

Akron Solon Asks Probe Of Liquor Store Choices

COLUMBUS, March 22. — A thorough investigation of charges that merit was subordinate to politics in appointments made by the state liquor department under the civil service law was promised today by Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R) Akron, if the senate passes his resolution authorizing the probe.

Unless the Sheppard resolution is shunted aside by the resolutions committee it was to come up for a vote in the upper branch of the legislature this afternoon. Sheppard claimed to have enough votes lined up to insure its passage.

"Reports are current," his resolution stated, "that merit is being subordinated for political reasons, notwithstanding that untold effort has been put forth in Ohio to prevent the use of state office as a means of building up political power."

CONFER WITH WATSON
Although Gov. George White and Col. John A. Hughes, director of the liquor department, are reported to have conferred with Dr. Carl Watson, Democratic state chairman, on lists certified by the civil service commission for appointments to positions in state liquor stores, the governor denied that such action was an important part of his appointments.

"Many of the appointments," he said, "have gone to Republicans. In all cases, merit has been the chief requirement for selection."

Sheppard did not suggest in the resolution the names of senators he would like appointed on the investigating committee, but it is customary to name the sponsor of such resolution as chairman. Five investigators would be appointed by the lieutenant governor. They would be required to submit their report to the senate by July 1, or in event the senate is not in session then, to the clerk of the senate.

An opponent of the state monopoly from the outset, Sheppard has been one of the severest critics of the present liquor control policy.

On the point of starvation, this three-year-old baby, Katherine Wilson, was found beside the dead body of her mother in their home at Mount Vernon, N. Y. The mother had been dead for four days, during which the child stayed by the body, eating scraps she found on the floor.

"One finally began talking over the phone to a man he called Al. He wanted to borrow Al's automobile for a job, and finally invited Al to come to the station."

"I heard one of them say something about kidnapping, adding, 'he makes a couple of grand a week; they'll pay off for the Crosby kid, all right. I always wanted to take a crack at a crooner.'"

"This led me to deduce the conspirators were talking about the child of Bing Crosby. One said: 'I think Bertha can take care of the kid.'"

BUSH'S MEN

Arthur Miller, convicted murderer who formerly was a cellmate of Dillinger when the latter was held in the county jail for bank banditry, took the stand as a state witness and said that Dillinger had boasted two weeks in advance of the jail delivery that he would be "sprung."

TOLD OF PLANS

According to Miller, the desperado had declared that Harry Pierpont, Charles Makley, Edward Shouse, John Hamilton, Joseph Jenkins and Clark would raid the jail. Pierpont and Makley already have been tried and convicted of slaying Sheriff Sarber and are awaiting sentence to the electric chair.

Miller testified that Dillinger once was visited in jail here by an attorney from Kokomo, Ind., three days before the jail delivery. The witness reported overhearing a conversation by the attorney that "I've taken care of the boys at Michigan City and they'll be after you."

Other than the elaboration of Miller's testimony on the trial, in the words of Jessie Levy, defense attorney, was a "photographic record" of the previous trials of Pierpont and Makley. Clark's trial also is marked by an increasing tenseness.

FDR SEES

the situation "looked good." This was an abrupt switch from his feeling of Tuesday night when he would not risk a prediction of success.

Participants in the executives' White House conference refused to talk as they emerged from the conclave. From other sources it was learned that Mr. Roosevelt directed them to act to avert a strike, and backed this up by outlining his powers to compel peaceful compromise.

Mr. Roosevelt holds a "big stick" in the form of his powers to license industry under the Industrial Recovery act.

The president was thoroughly advised as to his authority in the dispute. He called Attorney General Cummings in for an hour's conference after the automobile executives left. Asked if he thought Mr. Roosevelt would win out in his move for peace, the attorney general finally said: "I don't see many clouds up there in the sky."

ASK LICENSING

Green and his colleagues came to the White House determined to ask that the president use his licensing power to settle the trouble if the automobile executives refused to yield to labor's demands. The labor people want recognition of workers' representatives for collective bargaining whether these representatives be A. F. of L. men or not. The executives assert they will bargain collectively with the men, but not with the A. F. of L. The union leaders from Detroit, Pontiac, Flint and Cleveland conferred throughout the morning at the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor. William Green, president of the A. F. of L., participated.

It was decided that a delegation of twelve should go to the White House, ten being active union leaders from the motor cities, and Green and Edward McGrady, assistant secretary of Labor.

After their morning parley, they went to the NRA for conference with Gen. Hugh S. Johnson.

RUNDOWN, NERVOUS?

WHEN you feel run down, when your blood is thin or stomach gives you trouble, with gas, or "sour risings," try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If you are thin-blooded, need to put on healthy flesh—this is the tonic for you.

Mrs. Della Corwin of 707 E. Main St., Springfield, Ohio, says: "A few years ago I was very nervous, had dull headaches, no appetite, suffered from pains in my right side, my blood became thin and colorless and I felt weak and tired all the time. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery proved to be a fine tonic. I gained strength, and was soon feeling normal again." Sold by druggists.

Fitful Sleep or Bad Dreams

Fitful, fretful slumber and those "bad dreams" are sometimes caused by eating things hard to digest, or eating too near bedtime. But a more common cause is constipation. If clogged with waste, a child can't relax; the whole system becomes affected. You just can't give the ordinary cathartic at such an hour. (Indeed, laxatives of adult strength are never suitable for children.) See next column for a way to make the child comfortable for the night, and insure the needed bowel movement next morning:

To turn a nervous, wakeful child into a peaceful little slumberer, try two teaspoonsful of a delicious fruit syrup you can get from any druggist. Just have him to give you a bottle of California Syrup of Figs. Any boy or girl will love its taste. It starts at once to sweeten a sour, bilious system; and next morning, after moving about, the child will have a thorough, natural bowel action from the gentle action of the senna, if it is the real California Syrup of Figs.

Clipping Dividend Coupons From Your Gas Bill

SUPPOSE that you were to set aside your savings on using gas each time your gas bill is paid. For general household purposes you would find the amount you save, compared with the cost of the next least expensive fuel, would be more than you pay for gas. Setting aside this amount would be similar to clipping dividend coupons from your gas bill. If your family is of average size and isn't wasteful of the fuel, you would find these monthly dividends amount to $2.25 for gas refrigeration, $2.18 for cooking with gas and $1.00 for using gas to heat water. These savings are based on the use of gas selling for an average price of 75 cents per 1000 cubic feet. Thus, it can be seen that a rate which allows a small earning for the company, still leaves a handsome profit for the customer.

Many customers still use gas for its convenience, cleanliness and efficiency, without a thought of its value. Yet all of us are as greatly concerned with the value as we are with the price of any other commodity. In your own mind, can you judge the fairness of the price of gas without, also, giving some consideration to its value?

Profits and War

It has become a habit with pacifists of a certain type to blame wars on munitions manufacturers. This was the chief argument used by Senator Borah in his attack on the naval program. Munitions makers, the Idaho senator asserted, were largely if not chiefly responsible for the World war, and still are active in efforts to promote a new conflict.

Henry Ford indorses Borah's views and declares that as long as there is "greed for profit" on the part of the munitions manufacturers wars will continue.

Those who adopt this line of argument apparently forget that other branches of industry profit from wars. Automobile manufacturers are no exception. Yet, we have not heard them charged with promoting international conflicts. The makers of clothing, the producers of food and numerous other manufacturers and distributors also profit—hugely. If one interest that make money out of war to be blamed for wars, why not blame all?

The weakness of this argument is apparent. There were wars when bows and arrows were the only weapons, and there probably will be wars when all the present recognized weapons of war have been superseded by more effective ones.

Not until human nature undergoes a radical change will war disappear.

They eat eggs artificially, but the poor old stomach just burns a little drink at a time.

Windows in Office

WIDOWS should be as eligible as anybody else to hold public office. But in recent years a gallant habit has sprouted in the United States to tender public places to widows of incumbents who succumbed while holding an office to which they had been elected, without regard to the relic's ability to occupy the post.

The woman sheriff of Crown Point, Indiana, from whom Dillingham "will never get away, never fear," is a case in point. There have been congresswomen, similarly catapulted into office by the Grim Reaper, about as well qualified.

But to return to the Indiana example. "I didn't have my picture taken with Dillingham. I just happened to be in a group when someone took a picture."

When next cameras pointed at her countenance start clicking it should be because she has just been kicked out of office.

Still, necking as a substitute for conversation is about as intellectual as looking at the family album.

They invent more things to make you dissatisfied with what you have so you'll work harder, and that's progress.

But now the great open spaces are just a region where you can hear a radio four miles farther.

MOVIES

AT THE GRAND

The Rotary players present "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" at the Grand theatre tonight. This play, one of John Fox, Jr.'s, is widely known and should draw a huge crowd to the theatre.

An extra attraction, Jimmie Brown, the dancing dandy, has also been booked.

AT THE CLIFTONA

Artists and models, Gay Paree—littering songs—sparkling comedy—and tender romance.

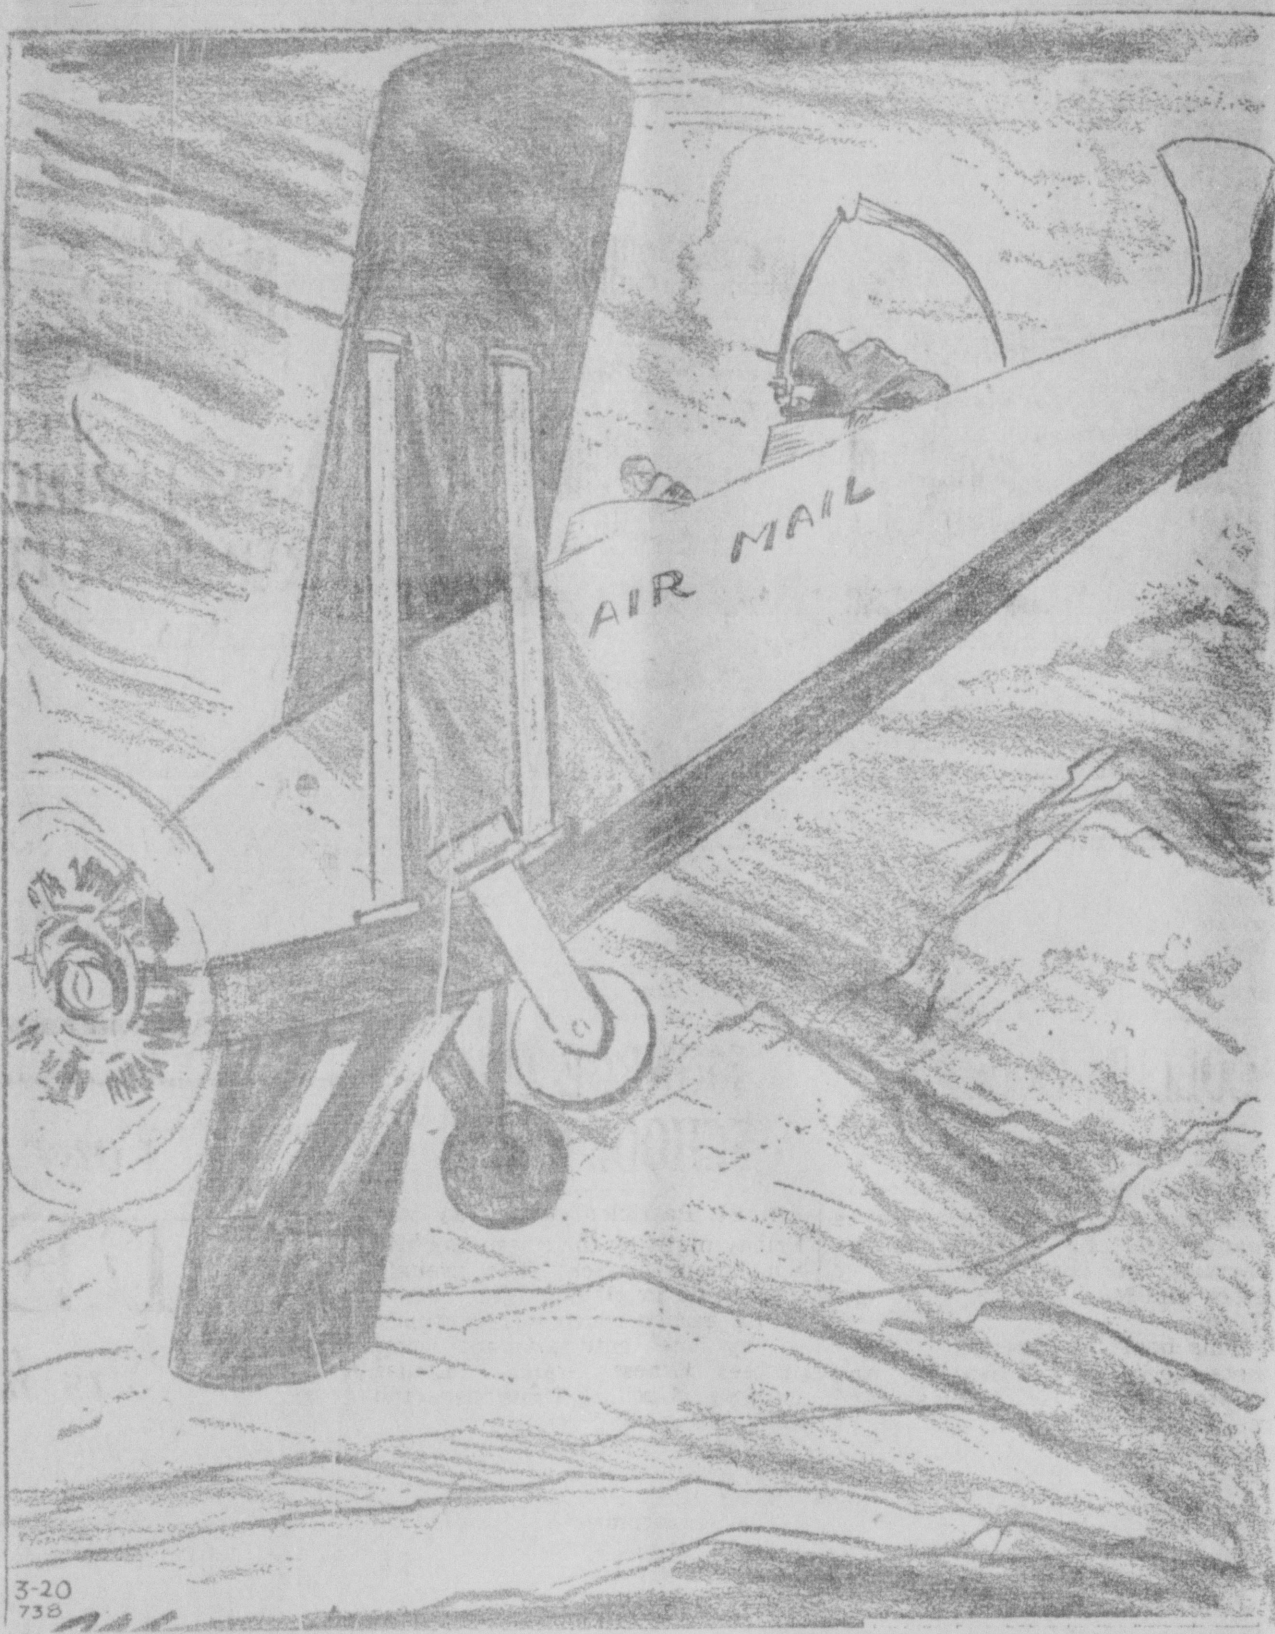

Such as Charles "R. Rogers" "Girl Without a Room" which comes to the Cliftona Theatre Friday and Saturday, with Charles Farrell and Charlie Ruggles, Marguerite Churchill, Gregory Ratoff, Walter Woolf and Grace Bradley.

The picture is exceptionally clever—and presents some old favorites in new characterizations and some new favorites in their screen debuts.

Charles Farrell becomes the comedian at times and does exceptionally well. Charlie Ruggles is just a bit more made-up than usual in a part that suits him perfectly.

Marguerite Churchill, remembered as an Angeline, blossoms forth with a newly acquired sophistication to enact the title role as an artist's model.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX

They had barely circled the room when Clark cut in again. Phil had made his little speech. His speech had had no effect. He gave up with what dignity he could muster but Patricia knew that he was offended. She did not mind. Not now. For Clark was smiling down at her, was saying:

"Glad to have me back?"

"Awfully glad," Patricia tested her new found power. She lastly raised her eyes, said, "Really, you know, we're misbehaving."

"We're having a lot of fun," he assured her not quite steadily. "At least I am."

"I too," she whispered, forgetting the part of coquetry. She remembered a moment later. She said, "We're the only ones who are dancing. I think we'd better join the others."

"I'd rather dance."

"I'd rather not."

So they joined the others, the group gathered in the swing and lounging on the divan, the group that had watched and whispered. Marthe was the center of that group, Marthe who was talking so gaily that she hardly seemed to notice their approach. But Patricia felt quite sure that she had. Phil did.

Phil said ironically, "Don't tell me that you two are tired of dancing."

"We got rather hot," supplied Patricia, fanning herself.

"I want a great big drink," announced Clark. "How about you, Patricia?"

"Thanks no, I'll be all right in a minute."

Marthe became conscious of their arrival. She glanced in their direction, said indifferently, "Well, you two have been absorbed. I had almost forgotten you were here."

Patricia looked at the other girl. "So had we," she said briefly.

A breath of unease ran through the group. The tables were turned with a vengeance. Marthe was afraid now, for all her bright gaiety, for all her air of cool indifference, Patricia knew it. She exulted in the thought. Clark might be engaged to Marthe, but tonight he belonged to her. She saw and the other girl saw how he settled at her feet, how he listened for her every word, how he could not seem to tear his eyes away. Tonight, there was no doubt of it, tonight belonged to Patricia.

She had had her chance to be kind. She could say to Phil, "No, you'll have to dance with somebody else. I've promised to try the tango with Arch."

It was fun while it lasted. It lasted until Julian Haverholt strolled out on the piazza. Patricia was waiting with Clark. Haverholt didn't say, "Brenk!" He never bothered to dance. He said, "Come inside a moment, Patricia, when you finish this. I have something important to discuss with you."

Julian closed the door of the Tracy living room. Through the open window, sweetened by distance, came a drift of music from the piazza. The others still were dancing.

Patricia seated herself with a swish of her dress, crossed her ankles, glanced at the man as he turned. "Well?" she said.

"Have you been enjoying yourself, my dear?" he inquired. He looked at her quizzically. He said, "I thought at dinner that you seemed a little subdued."

"You were wrong," she replied serenely. "I've been having a wonderful time. They have all been marvelous to me."

"That's good," he conceded but indifferently, as if the matter were of small import, as if the two of them had never debated her wisdom in coming here. She looked at him sharply. There was something new in his manner, a certain gleam in his eye, a certain suppressed excitement. She waited. He said, "I wanted you to look at this. It just came out today. That's what made me so late."

She accepted the magazine he extended, the Bridge Universe, a publication belonging to Reuben Blair, published every month. Patricia had seen copies often, had heard Haverholt's far from laudatory comments on the publication. He called it alternately, "Blair's Monthly Folly" and "A Short Handbook for Fools." Now she glanced at him in questioning surprise.

"I think you will be interested in the leading editorial," he suggested and indicated the proper page. Patricia glanced at the article, headed "The Bridge Racket." Her face turned a little pale. She read:

"The Bridge Racket"

"Bridge, no more safe from adventures than racing and lawn tennis, is becoming a racket. A game that has been, since its inception, the recreation of ladies and gentlemen is threatened now in this age of upstarts and social chaos with a growing invasion of sharpers, card-sharps and ballyhoo artists. There is no need to mention names here; those who know bridge know who the adventurers and adventuresses are. They know even who is the Chief Adventurer and who is the Chief Adventuress. An unsavory pair! If bridge is to be saved these people must go. And the best way to banish them is social ostracism."

Patricia let the magazine fall to her lap. She said rather faintly, "I suppose Reuben Blair means us."

"There's no doubt of it," said Haverholt and declared, "It's a marvelous break for us. The whole town is talking. The clubs were boiling with gossip this afternoon. A hundred fellows stopped me. People were talking of nothing else."

"People were talking of nothing except us?" queried Patricia with a sinking heart.

"Right," he assured her gleefully. "I've never seen anything like it. I was mobbed at the Cavender Club. It was nearly as bad at the Kirkcaldie."

He paused, said in surprise, "You don't seem particularly pleased."

"Pleased!" repeated Patricia, suddenly angry. "Why should I seem pleased? You may enjoy being called a bridge sharper. I can't say that I do."

"You don't understand," he said irritably, straddling a chair and looking at her with vast annoyance. He explained as he might explain to a child. "In a business like ours one good enemy is worth a thousand friends. Enemies make better copy, human nature being what it is. For years Reuben Blair has pussyfooted around, whispering behind my back, and I had to confine myself to whispering too. Now he's come out in the open and given me my turn. I can get back at him now. I will get back at him. You can lay your money on that!"

"No doubt you plan to sue," suggested Patricia, ironically. "A suit for slander would make pleasant headlines."

He took her seriously. He said, "I've done something better than that."

"What have you done?"

Her tone was sharp.

"Nothing much," he replied, feigning indifference. "I can't think why I should bother to say. You seem set on missing the point. You'd better run back to your dance."

"I won't! You tell me what you've done."

"Wait till you see the morning papers," he said. "You'll know then."

"I won't wait! I'm interested in this too. I have a right to know—to know now, this very minute. You told Mrs. Tracy," she said intuitively. "That's what you were talking about in the dining room. You told her, didn't you?"

"And if I did?"

"I want you to tell me!"

He was burning with a desire to explain. Still he crossed his knees, selected a cigarette, lighted it, al with maddening slowness.

He said deliberately, "I've set off a bomb, my dear, a bomb that will split the bridge-playing world in two. When the papers hit the street tomorrow old Massa Blair will be in a deuce of a fix."

"How? What do you mean?"

She was interested now, intensely interested. There was no doubt of it. Haverholt chuckled. He said, "I took a full page ad in every newspaper in New York and headed it, 'The Bridge Sharper's Reply' and signed your name and mine."

"You what?"

He repeated his statement, added, "I issued a challenge in your name and mine to Reuben Blair and any partner he chooses, to play one hundred rubbers of bridge, any place, any time, at stakes of ten to one. I offered to bet him personally ten thousand dollars to five hundred that you and I would win. I suggested that the match be termed—The Bridge Sharper's versus the Ladies and Gentlemen."

Annoyed as she was, Patricia had to laugh at a mental vision of Reuben Blair unfolding his morning paper. Haverholt might not have chosen a dignified way of confounding that prim, stiff old gentleman, but the situation had its compensations.

"It's going to be swell," said Haverholt, guffawing. "Blair will be doomed if he does and doomed if he doesn't. If he plays, we beat him and if he doesn't play he will be laughed out of town. He's got to play. There's no escape for him. Gosh, what a colossal joke. I've been hoping for something like this for years."

"It is funny," admitted Patricia, more soberly now, frightened vaguely by the intensity of his attitude.

Pinching Shoes Cause

Of Modern Foot Ills

And Some of These Painful Afflictions May Result in Permanent Deformity

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City

MANY MINOR maladies afflict the human family. With proper care most of these could be avoided. Many of them receive too little attention.

Sometimes they are treated with home remedies and medicines that relieve the pain but do not cure. The corn is an affliction of this type.

Few persons living under the conditions of modern civilization escape this annoying condition. It is probable that our remote ancestors were not familiar with this contribution of modern life.

Tight boots, improperly fitted shoes, pointed toes, and heels designed by Dame Fashion are a few of the things that produce corns.

A corn is a circular thickening of the skin, usually found at a point where the skin is pressed between a bony prominence and the shoe. Though it may form on any part of the body where the skin is irritated, it is most frequently seen on top of the toe. It may also appear between the toes.

No doubt you will be surprised to learn that the corn is surrounded by a sac or "bursa," the central peg being the corn. Complete cure is possible only when the whole thing is removed.

How to Treat a Corn

Local applications relieve the pain and soften the corn, but rarely cure the disorder. This accounts for the common reappearance of the ailment.

The proper treatment of a corn consists in the softening of the outer portion, followed by the complete removal of the central core. Of course, this should only be done by one who is familiar with the anatomy of the part and who takes the necessary precautions against infection. Never cut a corn or attempt to remove it without these precautions. Severe blood poisoning may result from inexperienced or careless surgery.

If you wish to prevent corns, wear shoes that do not pinch the feet in any way. They should be broad and have ample room for movement of the toes. The arch should be snug and give the necessary support. The heel should be broad and low.

Some persons have particularly tender feet and are liable to callouses, corns, ingrown toe nails and other uncomfortable afflictions. These individuals just must avoid tight and pointed shoes. They should bathe their feet in salt water or a solution of alum every night. This hardens the skin and helps to prevent many annoying foot disturbances.

Do not neglect a corn, bunion, callosity or other deformity of the foot. Neglect may lead to a permanent, painful and unsightly deformity.

Answers to Health Queries

Mrs. R. H. Q.—I have had an operation on my nose for a nasal deviation. I have had a crackling sound in my ears and the operation was supposed to overcome this disturbance. How long will it take before I notice results? Will the drainage take care of itself in time? 2: What will clear the face of pimples and blackheads?

A.—Have your doctor advise you. Clear up any underlying catarrhal condition. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. 2: Proper diet and regular habits should clear the complexion and make for general improvement. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

M. C. Q.—What should a young girl of 15, 5 feet tall, weigh?

A.—She should weigh about 112 pounds. This would be about average for her age and height as determined by examination of a large number of persons.

Action on Conservancy Measure Seen This Week

COLUMBUS, March 22.—Possible action this week by the house of representatives on the two Bittering bills enabling the state to bear its portion of the $35,000,000 Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District flood prevention project cost was foreseen today.

Unless the house become embroiled in controversial taxation problems, leaders of the lower house were of the opinion that the bills would come up for final passage before the week-end recess. They expected both bills to pass, but not without bitter debate.

There was not a dissenting vote against a motion of Rep. J. Freer Bittering (D) Ashland, to report his bill permitting the highway department to go ahead with the relocation of roads in the conservancy district, out of the highway committee last night.

Carrying a recommendation for passage, the highway relocation bill was reported out of committee by a vote of 14 to 0, with

Reps. Kalb (D) Port Clinton; Ingersoll (R) Warren, and Taft (R) Cleveland, present but not voting.

FAVORABLE MEMBERS

Members of the committee voting favorably on the bill were Bittering (D) Ashland; Byrne (D) Toledo; Maxwell (D) Hicksville; Moore (D) Piketon; Roach (D) North Baltimore; Smith (D) Cincinnati; Traxler (D) Wyandot; Uible (D) Cleveland; Deibel (R) Medina; Glenn (R) Coshocton; Niday (R) Gallipolis; Richards (R) Carrollton; Van Ness (R) Mechanicsburg; and Niswonger (D) Dayton.

Previously the house finance committee had voted 15 to 0 to recommend passage of the companion Bittering measure which appropriates $2,000,000 from the general revenue fund as the state's share of construction costs. This bill was sixth on the house calendar today, but because of the importance of bill ahead of it there was little possibility of its coming up for a vote until later.

H. P. Chapman, assistant state highway director, appeared before the highway committee with data on the relocation of roads necessary in conjunction with the gigantic flood prevention project.

RELOCATE 138 MILES

It was his estimate that 46 miles of state highway would have to be relocated at an estimated cost of $2,150,000 while construction of the 14 dams in the conservancy district was in progress. Later he said 138 miles of additional roads would be relocated.

"This does not appear to be as serious a problem for the highway department as it at first appeared to be," said Chapman. "It would not interfere with or hamper the normal highway construction program in other parts of the state for us to go ahead with relocation asked by the conservancy district."

He estimated that 14 or 15 state roads would have to be relocated in the 16 counties in the conservancy district, but he said there relocation would put all of them out of danger from future floods.

City Reduces Tax

CINCINNATI. — Because of "unexpected revenues" 1934 tax bills here will be about 12 per cent lower than those of 1933, according to City Manager C. A. Dykstra. The city treasury received "certain unexpected revenues" during 1933, all of which were guarded rigidly to give a surplus into 1934, the city manager explained. He said the sum to be collected from general taxes for municipal purposes in 1934 is $7,642,349, or $16.36 per person.

MOST DELIGHTFUL DRAMATIC PLAYS OF SEASON HERE

An afternoon and evening of great dramatic interest is promised to the audiences of Circleville and Pickaway-co Friday, March 23, when James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce and their company will appear at the High School auditorium in a matinee performance of "The Merchant of Venice" and an evening of "Macbeth."

The press throughout the country has lauded the work of Mr. Hendrickson and Miss Bruce and their company. That they have consented to appear in Circleville is a distinct compliment to our city and we are pleased to learn that students and teachers all over the county realize this and are planning to see at least one performance. They will learn to understand Shakespeare in a manner that no amount of reading can give them. Alive as the words may be in themselves, they take on added life and new charm when spoken in the resonant tones and delicate inflection and the poetic beauty which the great English genius has left to all those who speak his tongue.

"That the conception behind this effort is sound, is evidenced by the enthusiasm with which educational institutions have opened their auditoriums to the players, who, in their seven years of touring, have appeared in forty-one states, and have established a fine reputation for artistic excellence.

ASHVILLE SCHOOL NOTES

Dickie Messick, Freddie Puckett and Floridene Snyder of the first grade, have been absent all week on account of sickness.

The first grade made kites this week. They were very successful. Mrs. S. F. Hinkle visited the first grade Thursday afternoon.

A booklet on Holland has been started. As they have nearly completed "Hans and Hilda," they will make cut-out pictures of the story for their book.

In our bird contest this week, the first graders found that the "Robin Family" was more prevalent.

We began our reading circle two weeks ago. Many of the children have read three of the books listed.

Helen Irwin of the second grade is still out of school. Katherine Johnson also is absent.

On Wednesday and Thursday afternoon the second graders have been listening to the Story Hour Lady. They have read several of the stories and they intend to dramatize the stories they know.

The 5th grade had two interesting exhibits this week; the one-old coins and the other-white sand from Florida and soil from Georgia. The soil was of a reddish-brown color and as someone mentioned, resembled cocoa.

The coin exhibit included old pennies, a half-penny, a 1-4 rupee from India, and others from China, Canada, Spain, England, and France.

The following 5th grade students have been neither absent nor tardy so far this school year: Betty Brinker, Mary Louise Gerhardt, Margaret Glick, Beatrice Gibbee, Ray Kraft, Doris Cline, and Clarence Rush.

The pupils of grade six are working on a frieze of Japan for their bulletin board. For the divisions of their picture they have chosen a Japanese temple, the old Taiko Bridge, and natives harvesting rice with the volcano, Fujiyama in the background.

The 8th grade Geography class is reviewing the location of the principal cities, the United States by means of a series of maps made by the pupils. Some of these maps have been very neat and well made and are on display on the 8th grade bulletin board.

Yet you still find pre-depression cheer in regions where nothing less than six hounds is considered a set.

COLLUM IN CHARGE

Max O. Collum, who will put on the meat cutting demonstration at Memorial Hall, Friday evening, is manager of the advertising department of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, Chicago, Illinois.

This board is organized to promote the live stock industry and to promote the use of meat and meat products. He is an expert meat cutter and has charge of that phase of work, demonstrating cuts of meat and educating housewives as to the quality of meat and instructs how to buy better meat.

He will use one-half beef and lamb in his demonstration, showing the cuts, and name, approximate price per cut.

Word Volume Alarms

CINCINNATI. — Alarm at "the flow of words which is closing in on us from all sides, over the air, through the press and magazines, forums and even in the pulpit," was expressed here by Dr. Edward C. Jenkins, president of George Williams College, Chicago. "There is no help for us unless we dam up this flow of words, cut them off, and interpret them into actual participation in many things discussed and written about," he said.

When the average man sets out to make a fool of himself he is using the cheapest material available.

BOBBY JONES IN COMEBACK; PLAYS RUNYAN

'Grand Slammer' of Golf Faces
Choice Field At Augusta;
Study Outcome.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 22.—They snap the spotlight and sweep back the curtain at the dogwood-lined Augusta National today on the supreme sports drama of the century.

After a four-year self-imposed exile from the fairways over which he blazed a meteoric strait for fourteen summers, that amazing young Southern lawyer, Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., is on the loose again.

There never was an event quite to approach this return from a sports elba. Perhaps there never will be. Bobby, with everything to lose and nothing to gain, is placing the bright record of his dashing career that he climaxed in 1930 with his grand slam win of the American and British open and amateur championships on the altar of sports where it might be blasted by a single stroke of ill luck.

WORLD'S BEST THERE
With characteristic bold courage he has stacked tremendous odds against himself and flung a challenge of "come and get me" to a picked field of the world's most able golfers. To dedicate a course in his native state to the game he loves Bobby is giving "the field" one final crack at him.

And with blood in their eye, like the opposing teams that concentrated on putting Red Grange out of the game when he was galloping to successive touchdowns, the sixty-odd crack professionals and doxen amateurs gathered here are lying in restive ambush. The figures on their score cards read "Bobby Jones" instead of par.

Veterans who have met him on famous battlefields of America and Britain, have gone down to successive defeats before his uncanny genius, and love him, and sharp-shooting youngsters who will be getting their first shot at him, are imbued with the single burning fixation of beating the greatest golfer of them all.

Into this historic Savannah river community thousands have

Training Camp Notes

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 22.—Interviews to the contrary notwithstanding, Bill Terry is plainly worried over the manner in which his world's champion Giants have been losing exhibition games.

The other day Bill remarked that spring games "didn't mean a thing" while trying to explain away three successive defeats by the Cardinals, but today he had no answer for the 2 to 1 trouncing administered to his team by the Browns yesterday.

The two clubs meet again today and Bill will try to avenge the loss.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—Ben Chapman, fleet Alabama outfielder of the New York Yankees, who was hailed a few years back as the successor of Ty Cobb as the speed king of the majors, is going to think more about base-stealing and less about hitting from now on, he revealed today. Chappie has been working out steadily on the base paths at Miller Huggins field here.

TAMPA, Fla., March 22.—The Brooklyn Dodgers were in Tampa today for a game with the Cincinnati Reds and they were none too pleased over their 3-2 defeat at the hands of the Phillies. To add to their discomfort was the news that Al Lopez, star catcher, is still a holdout. Business Manager Bob Quinn was slated to make Lopez a final offer today. Al's home is in Tampa.

jammed, crowding hotels to the bursting point, to witness the event. Ten thousand are expected in the gallery by the final round. The show began today at 10 a. m. (EST).

Ralph Stonehouse, of Indianapolis, and John Kinder, of Suburb Park, N. J., lead off the pack. The field moves out in twosomes at seven-minute intervals.

PLAYS WITH RUNYAN
Bobby is right in front of the starters and is teamed with the man who is even money with him to win. Lawyer Jones and Paul Runyan, the 25-year-old White Plains, N. Y., sensation who has lined his bank account with the best pickings of the winter golf circuit, drive off at 10:35.

Grand National Favorite

About This And That

BY THE
SECOND GUESSER

ANOTHER great 'boo' favorite of the Columbus baseball fans has passed on. * * * Clyde (Peg Ridge) Day, former Kansas City and Minneapolis right hander, slashed his throat in a Kansas City hotel using a hunting knife as the death weapon. * * * Day, a pretty good pitcher, was the hog-calling champion of the association and was a mighty tough nut to crack when he was right. * * * He had been suffering frequent lapses of memory and had been under treatment in a hospital before he committed his act.

Columbus moguls are getting tired of discussing salary with Ralph Judd and Glen Spencer, right-handed pitchers. * * * Both have been ordered to report or take a salary slash. * * * Charlie Swamp Baby Wilson, who is expected to hold down third base for the Birds, has signed his contract and is about ready for action. * * * If Wilson continues the type of baseball he played while in the association last year they are going to need some new slats or the right field wall.

One of sports' oddities is reported from the high school where a basketball team was held scoreless. * * * Monday evening the Sophs beat the Juniors. * * * Wednesday evening the Juniors returned the compliment but held the Sophomores without a point. * * * The Sophs are claiming a relay several of the players took part in as their alibi. * * * Anyway the score stands.

It doesn't take these Notre Dame athletes long to get jobs. * * * "Moose" Krause, football tackle and basketball center who graduates in June, has already been signed as head coach of St. Mary's college, Winona, Minn.

Some baseball slang phrases: Bad news, contract with reduced salary; Baltimore chop, a bouncer that hits the plate and bounces high in the air; Banana stalk, a bat with poor wood in it; Barber, a player who does a lot of talking; Barker, coach at first base.

The Juniors turned the tables on the Sophomores, Wednesday evening, handing their earlier conquerors a 16-0 defeat. The score sounds like a football game but basketball was the pastime.

The Junior defense was just too much for the Sophs who won a game earlier in the week by a 29-9 count with the Juniors as the losers.

Sophomore girls defeated the Jr.-Sr aggregation, 11-7.

The lineup:
JUNIORS—16
Kirwin, f. 2 0 4
Carle, c. 1 1 3
Jenkins, f. 3 0 6
Osborn, g. 1 0 2
Jocas, g. 0 1 1

Totals 7 2 16
The Sophomores used Stivers, Scott, Andrews, Plum, Melson, Bagent, Friley, Doan, McGinnis, Griffith, and Harden in an unsuccessful effort to score.

BASKETBALL BANQUET
The parents of the members of the squads gave a banquet for all those who played basketball the entire season whether a member of the squad or not, the cheer lead-Friday evening, March 16, at 6:30 o'clock.

The cafeteria was beautifully decorated in green and white producing a fine setting for the delicious meal. The toastmaster, Mr. Sponsler, the toastmaster, gave a short talk and immediately following this called for responses from Lola Hoover, William Sampson, Harriett Culmins, Charles Bartholomew, Agnes Lynch, and Wayne Brown all senior members of the squad. Next were toasts by the coaches Loudenslager and Griffith.

Mr. Deckrosh was called upon for a toast which ended the session in the cafeteria.

The next attraction was in the auditorium where a short program was given. Elizabeth Reber sang two Irish songs, Ann Reber gave a humorous Irish reading, the boy's sextette sang two songs. Mark Dunkel was called on for a surprise toast at the conclusion of this program.

Mr. Sponsler then announced a girls vs. boys basketball game with the boys wearing the girls' ancient uniforms. The floor was instantly cleared for the contest. When the boys appeared on the floor the crowd not only cheered but they laughed out loud. The game was the most comical ever witnessed on the Walnut court. Girls' rules were played and the boys could not shoot from inside the foul line. After the boys had a lead they did most of their shooting back past the center line. The game ended 16 to 6 in favor of the boys. This banquet was probably the most successful of any at Walnut for a long time.

The closing event of the evening was a game between the varsity girls and the varsity boys playing girls' rules. No boys were allowed within the foul line.

The Home Economics Department and F. F. A. boys are giving a parent, daughter and son banquet. The banquet was planned for the entertainment of the parents. All parents who have boys or girls enrolled in Home Economics and Vocational Agriculture classes are urged to attend. The banquet will be held at the school building on Thursday evening March 29.

The following Walnut pupils are to take part in the county scholarship tests:

DARBY SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Webber of Mt. Sterling gave a very interesting and instructive talk in Assembly on March 9. His topic was "The Value of Determined Effort" and was illustrated by a discussion of the lives of three very interesting men.

The class basketball tournaments were played off last week. The senior boys and the senior girls were the victors in each case. The finals were played last Friday night before a fair-sized house and the proceeds are to be used by the Juniors in helping to defray some of the expenses connected with the Junior-Senior banquet.

The P-T-A meeting will be held on Thursday night of this week. Rev. D. S. Mills of Columbus being the speaker for the occasion. All are invited to attend.

A number of new pupils have enrolled in our schools to take the place of the ones who have moved out of the community. An athletic banquet is being planned for the basketball team for Friday night, March 23 at the school building. Rev. W. N. Mantle of Mt. Sterling will be the speaker. The coaches will present the letters at that time.

The election of the new staff of the Darby Cantor, the school paper will be held on Friday of this week.

May first is the date chosen for the senior class play. The play is a comedy in three acts. Its title is "Phillip for Short."

The race track and jumping pits were very much in use during the noons of the few warm days of last week. Pupils from the first grade up are "raring" to go.

Junior Campbell of the class of '33 came back and visited the high school on Monday. He is a student at Ohio State University and is spending Easter vacation with his mother Mrs. Florence Campbell.

The Clarksburg orchestra will come here to help furnish the music for our senior class play and we will go down there and assist them.

Athletic News:

The seventh grade boys, the senior boys and the freshman girls were winners of the interclass basketball tournament.

The seventh graders won from the eighth and then conquered the fifth and sixth grades.

The senior boys—in the finals with the juniors as their opponents looked to be losing the first half but the second half added to the score of the seniors and when the whistle blew they were victors over the juniors by several points. The sophomores won the consolation game.

During the freshman, senior girls' tangle the score was tied several times but during the last part of the game the frosh team gained and kept a lead of several points. The final score was 23 to 19.

M. E. CHOIR HONORS

MR. AND MRS. MARCY

Mr. and Mrs. Delos Marcy, whose marriage was recently announced, were honor guests at a party given by the Methodist Episcopal church choir, of which Mrs. Marcy is a member, Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Himrod, W. Mill-st.

An old-fashioned bell ringing preceded the pleasant hours at the home. A kitchen shower was given Mrs. Marcy and delicious refreshments were served late in the evening. Twenty four choir members enjoyed the affair.

PICKAWAY F. T. A. HAS INTERESTING PROGRAM

The Pickaway-twp. Parent-Teachers' association enjoyed an interesting program at the school Wednesday evening, consisting of music, magic and an address by Supt. M. C. Warren.

In his educational and patriotic talk 'Mr. Warren proved very "conclusively" that too much money is being spent on the free democratic schools for which America is noted. Four items—candy, theatres, chewing gum and tobacco—take seven billion dollars annually, from Americans. The money spent last year for one of these items alone, tobacco, is just equal to the amount used by the state of Ohio for financing its public schools from 1820 to the present time. Schools cost too much, Tobacco doesn't.

Excellent music was furnished by the high school orchestra and Miss Ruth McKenzie with her tricks of magic kept the audience in constant fear of losing their hats, rings and coins.

A covered-dish supper preceded the devotionals which were in charge of Raymond Paxton.

During the business session several reports were made by committee chairmen and a new committee for the pre-school clinic was appointed by the president Mrs. Ralph Head. This committee is comprised of Mrs. Carl Porter chairman, Mrs. Marvin Dreisbach, Mrs. Andrew Warner, Mrs. Orrin Dreisbach, Mrs. Sam McKenzie and Mrs. Cora Hood.

Mrs. Bernard W. Young, Miss Kathleen Dilsaver and Mrs. Shirley Dreisbach were named on the nominating committee to select candidates for the election of officers.

The officers for the next year will be chosen at the final meeting which is tentatively set for Tuesday, April 24.

New England Business Rebels Against Goose Stepping Regulations

PROVIDENCE—A look-see at this grand and ancient industrial area where New Englanders began to harness machinery while the West was still a fenceless prairie, discloses three definite developments regarding the New Deal.

1. The President, himself, is still as popular personally as he ever was, more so than at the time of his election. If another election were held tomorrow he would be swept back into office by an overwhelming vote.

2. Business on the whole is good and looks like it would continue so. Business indexes in the rest of the country—car loadings, bank clearances—indicate that this condition is universal.

3. Despite these two factors, there is an increasing groundswell of resentment against the restrictions which the Roosevelt Administration is placing against business.

This latter is the outstanding development regarding the New Deal in New England. And judging from reports from other areas, it is true everywhere.

The honeymoon days when Roosevelt could write his own ticket as far as economic adjustment was concerned are now a matter of history. Lip service to the President continues, but support for his attempts to guide the business phase of the Recovery Program is definitely on the wane.

The Line-Up

The revolt of business goes right down the line. It is most vehement against the Stock Market Bill. In fact the outcry against this "iniquitous" piece of legislation is so great that the once-battered Securities Act becomes tame and harmless in contrast. Small-time businessmen, who never trade on the Street, and wouldn't know a bucket-shop from J. P. Morgan's office, have joined the hue and cry—not because they are affected—but because they have their backs up against the bogey of government regulation.

Here in high-tariff New England, the bill to give Roosevelt tariff bargaining powers, is equally distrusted. Even though the President is permitted to alter rates only fifty per cent, the New England businessman places the bill in the same category as old-time "Witchcraft."

The Wagner Labor Board Bill is called "dictatorial" by a sentiment strongly echoed in Detroit, Pittsburgh and other industrial areas. Employers feel that it would unionize every industry in the country, that this condition is devoutly to be avoided, that it would give Labor even more power than in the Labor-dominated countries of New Zealand and Australia.

The NRA is universally praised as giving great benefits to business, but the Roosevelt-Johnson proposal to curtail hours of labor to increase employment is bucked by almost every industrialist in business. There is also considerable suspicion regarding the way General Johnson is intervening in the automobile strike situation, and the feeling that as far as the Government is concerned, Labor is getting all the breaks.

Two New Facts

From this rebellion, two salient facts stand out.

1. A lot of people don't like to march in goosestep. This applies not merely to businessmen. There has been a definite resentment against the snap-judgment tramping down of the traditional American right of a public hearing before cancelling the Air Mail contracts. There has been a suspicion that the Administration might trample on other rights elsewhere.

2. Probably more important, it is a paradoxical fact that the more prosperous business becomes, the greater its rebellion against the New Deal.

COUNCIL READS 48-CENT GAS MEASURE; HALTS WATER VOTE

Ordinance Referred to Committee to Await Decision

HILMER PRESENT

Marion Opposes Delay in Action on Water

Council took action toward consummation of a new gas contract, Wednesday evening, when an ordinance was reported out of committee and read for the first time. It was immediately referred to the ordinance committee without discussion.

An ordinance must be read three times before it is subject to a vote unless rules are suspended and the measure ticketed as an emergency.

Councilman W. M. Reid, chairman of the ordinance committee where the measure was started, said council does not intend to push the ordinance through but will hold it in readiness awaiting "more judicial decisions which are expected in other controversies."

Mr. Reid pointed out that council does not desire a fight either in court or in the utilities commission with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

CALLS FOR 48 CENTS

The ordinance as read the first time calls for 75 cents for the first 500 cubic feet with no discount and 48 cents for each 1,000 cubic feet over 500 cubic feet subject to a 3 cent per 1,000 discount.

The present average price paid for gas is slightly more than 70 cents per 1,000. This rate contract has been in effect since March 22, 1931, just three years ago today.

Since that time negotiations have gone on and on. The nearest a new contract came to being in effect was last December, when council passed an ordinance only to have it rescinded when the gas company, facing a referendum vote, failed to approve a minor change made by the council. The ordinance was later repealed by the new council.

The water ordinance question resulted in a heated session with the result being that the ordinance was not called out for third reading. Councilman Frank A. Marion took exception to the fact that the ordinance was not called out for third reading and he could not understand council's delay after it had agreed to accept the contract. The ordinance has been read twice.

CITES AGREEMENT

Mr. Marion argued that council had met as a committee and decided that instead of immediately passing its own water ordinance it would seek negotiations with the water company. This was done, he pointed out, with the result that reductions in water hydrant rental and sprinkler system costs were embodied in an ordinance. He said council had agreed to accept the ordinance and that he didn't believe in changing his mind on the question.

Engineer Hilmer, of Fossick and Hilmer, Cincinnati, met with council and recommended that the water ordinance should contain a reduction of the cost to domestic consumers. This resulted in the ordinance being withdrawn. One councilman said, Thursday, after a meeting with W. A. Dark, Ohio Water Service Co. official, will be sought in the near future.

SOUTH CHARLESTON, March 22

—After a year of bickering, the South Charleston council and village officials today have reached an agreement with the officials of the Dayton Light & Power company over the payment of power bills for the village water works system. The agreement gives the village a low rate.

Under the agreement, the village will settle power bills, amounting to $500 and will receive a reduction in rate of from four to three cents per kilowatt hour, the rate being retroactive to Jan. 1, 1934.

Seneca-co Alters Its Political Plan; Off Pickrel's List

TIFFIN, March 22.—The Seneca-co Democratic executive committee today has rescinded its endorsement of William C. Pickrel as a nominee for the governorship of Ohio.

The committee voted 16 to 3 last night on the motion made by F. A. Hinchey, committeeman, to rescind the committee's action last Dec. 18, backing Pickrel.

Hinchey, in making his motion, said that when the endorsement was made, Lieutenant Governor Charles Sawyer and former Congressman Martin L. Davey had not announced their candidacies, and that he believed it would be the best interest of the party if no endorsement was made until the primary.

BLIZZARD HITS CITY AS 1,000 DIE IN FLAMES

150,000 Homeless in Northern Japanese City After 'Living Hell'

LOSS 15 MILLIONS

No Word Heard From 2 American Missionaries

TOKYO, March 22.—A freezing gale and blizzard-like snows added to the intense suffering of 150,000 residents of the seaport Hakodate, largest city in northern Japan, who were homeless today following a devastating fire which destroyed four-fifths of the city and took a toll of lives officially estimated at more than 1,000.

Quick-piling snowdrifts which settled over the ruins of 25,000 homes while they still were smoldering hindered the work of the soldiery marshaled to administer relief, and made difficult the search for the bodies of further victims believed to have perished.

Survivors, fleeing before the flames, which spread rapidly through the frame dwellings before a 70-mile-an-hour gale, rushed to the seashore and clambered aboard ships in the harbor for protection.

CAUSED BY CHIMNEY

The fire began at 7 p. m. yesterday when the chimney of a bath house was blown over, setting fire to a neighboring house. Soon all Hakodate, a city of 200,000 population, was a raging inferno which the mayor described in a radio message as "a living hell."

The fire, comprising one of the worst conflagrations in Japan's history, was finally checked at 5 o'clock this morning, after 10 hours, but still raged in the suburbs.

The government rushed four destroyers and two supply ships from the Ominato naval base carrying food, clothing and medicine. The supplies included 20,000 blankets and 500 boxes of food.

Husband Near Breakdown as Actress Dies

LILYAN TASHMAN.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Edmund Lowe, actor husband of Lilyan Tashman, glamorous screen star who died here yesterday, was reported today to be on the verge of a breakdown at the home of Mrs. Tiffany Spontias, where he has been in seclusion since his wife's death.

He could not be reached for information concerning funeral arrangements, but friends said Lowe was undecided whether the rites would be held in Hollywood or in Miss Tashman's native Brooklyn.

A definite announcement of funeral arrangements probably will be forthcoming later in the day, it was said.

Lowe and Miss Tashman were planning to spend a vacation in Connecticut when the actress contracted the ailment described as a tumorous condition which cut short her career.

Her latest picture, entitled "Riptide," is scheduled to open at a Broadway theater on Friday of next week.

CROSBY CHILD UNDER GUARD

Police Act as Hollywood Man Reports Overhearing Kidnap Plot.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 22.—Police today were on guard at the Bing Crosby home near Toluca lake, against kidnapers who, it was reported, had planned to "snatch" the singer's 9-month-old son, Gary Evan Crosby.

The guards were detailed to the Crosby home by Capt. Bert Wallis of the homicide squad, after Capt. Wallace read the report of W. Vincent Noise, who overheard two suspected kidnapers conferring in an interurban station.

"I was trying to get a telephone call," Noise said. (Continued on Page Three)

"Tired of Waiting," Chief of Lima Guards Says Ordering Men To Scour County; Fear Clark May Try To Escape From Courtroom.

LIMA, March 22.—Hand-picked rifle squads of National Guardsmen were scouring the countryside today in a hunt for John Dillinger, fugitive desperado, while extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent Russell Clark, Dillinger henchman now on trial for first degree murder, from making a break for liberty.

"I'm tired of waiting for Dillinger," said Brig. Gen. Harold M. Bush in command of the soldiers. "Now we're going out to get him and get him where he is in the vicinity. We might lose a few men if he resists capture, but once we corner him, he won't get away."

FEARS CLARK'S DASH

Gen. Bush feared, too, he said, that Clark might throw caution to the winds and make a bold dash for liberty while he is being led to and from the courtroom where he is on trial for alleged complicity in the slaying of Sheriff Jess Barber during the Dillinger jail delivery last Oct. 12.

Two crack gunners, armed with "tommy" guns, were assigned today by Gen. Bush to watch the accused killer when he is taken from his cell to the courthouse. Gen. Bush pointed out that Clark continually is tugging at his handcuffs and ankle manacles in his waking moments in the courtroom. Twice during yesterday's hearing, the desperado dropped into sleep. Once when a nudge from one of his attorneys awakened him, Clark commented, "Aw hell."

First damaging testimony against Clark was introduced by the state after a jury of eleven men and one woman was seated. (Continued on Page Three)

Municipal Bond Measure Defeated 53-40; Cleveland Mayor Sought Move.

COLUMBUS, March 22.—The state House of Representatives today refused to concur in the report of the joint conference committee on the municipal bond referendum bill which would have permitted municipalities to temporarily divert money from their bond sinking funds for current operating expenses.

The vote on the measure was 53 for and 40 against. Sixty-eight votes were required to put the report across.

Rep. Keith Lawrence (D) of Cleveland, author of the bill, indicated that he would ask for another conference committee.

On a motion of Rep. Lawrence, the House, without a record vote, agreed to ask the Senate to join in the appointment of a new conference committee which will endeavor to put the bill in such shape that approval of both houses can be obtained.

Rep. Horace Keifer (R) of Springfield, attempted to block appointment of a second conference committee by objecting to consideration of the Lawrence motion. The vote was overridden by Speaker Frank Cave, however.

Ernestly sought by the city of Cleveland, whose Mayor Harry L. Davis has told the legislature that unless the refund bill is passed, the Ohio metropolis will be forced to cut its public services in half by July 1, the measure was as forcefully opposed by representatives of rural districts who described it as establishing a dangerous precedent which would jeopardize all Ohio municipal bonds.

Today's parley, scheduled for early afternoon, came 24 hours after the president had called labor executives here to discuss the same problem.

STRIKE DELAYED

Meanwhile, workers had abeyance until conference was concluded, a general strike in the automotive industry, which a strike is called off or later will depend upon the student's success or failure in the knotty dispute between labor and over recovery.

The White House today was distinctly optimistic of bringing an amicable settlement to the dispute. Recovery of the auto industry, which is the president's main concern, was the chief aim.

Commerce Department officials said they were confident of a settlement.

Persons of American, British, Russian, and German business and missionaries regularly reside in Hakodate. Because of the difficulty of communication with the stricken city, their plight was not immediately known.

Among the missionary group in Hakodate were Miss Mary Collins, of Philadelphia, and Miss Alice Cheney, of Missouri, both teachers. The Russian and British consulates were burned. The condition of the meat packing plant of Carl Raymon, formerly of Chicago, was not learned immediately. Telegraph lines were cut almost immediately as the telegraph offices were burned. News of the disaster came from the Ochiishi radio station, and was brief.

Eight banks, three department stores, five gas and electric light and power plants, all government buildings, many temples and Christian churches, five shipyards, and schools and factories were among the buildings razed.

American Ambassador Joseph C. Grew called on Foreign Minister Hirota to express the sympathy of the American government.

Army airplanes flew over the devastated city in a survey of conditions and to drop emergency relief supplies for use pending arrival of the navy ships.

Simple Foods Using Milk

We always are eager to pass on to someone else the news of more ways to use milk. It is such a notoriously good thing for all of us to get more milk in our daily diet that we won't take time to tell you why you should use more of it.

Have you ever tried Salmon Fritters? Sift together 1 1/2 C. flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. cayenne pepper, 1/4 tsp. salt and add one well-beaten egg, 1/2 C. milk, 1 C. salmon (drained and minced) and the juice of half a lemon. Beat well together and drop by spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry until a golden brown. Serve with tartar sauce or chili sauce.

Escalloped Cauliflower and Ham

1 1/2 C. milk 1 Pepper
1 C. soft bread crumbs 1 head cooked cauliflower
2 Tbsp. butter 1 1/2 C. cooked ham, chopped
Salt

To the milk, add bread crumbs and cook over a low fire, stirring until smooth. Remove from the fire; add butter, salt and pepper to taste. Into a well-greased baking dish, put alternate layers of cauliflower, bread sauce and ham. Bake in a moderate oven (400 degrees) for 15 to 20 minutes.

Savory Pudding

Among the desserts made with milk, we find this Savory Pudding. It is a fancy one, but it is well worth the little extra effort to make a dessert that is attractive and unusual.

4 egg yolks 3 Tbsp. sugar
2 1/2 C. milk 1/4 tsp. salt
1 pkg. lemon gelatin Lady fingers or strips of cake
1 C. canned apricots, sliced 1 can moist coconut

Combine egg yolks, sugar, salt and milk, and cook in a double boiler until mixture coats spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from fire and sift gelatin in gradually, stirring until it dissolves. Strain into mold, filling 1 inch deep. Chill until firm. Dip lady fingers into part of the custard and line the mold. Fill the mold with apricots, custard and coconut. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serves 8.

Yankee Fluff

This dessert is less expensive and is much less trouble. It is a baked pudding that isn't as ordinary as bread pudding, and is it good!

1 C. soft bread crumbs, scalded 1/2 cup milk
1/2 C. sugar 1 tsp. vanilla
3 Tbsp. butter 1 C. marshmallows
1/2 C. seedless raisins

Soak crumbs in milk. Cool slightly and add sugar, butter, eggs, salt, flavoring and raisins. Pour mixture over marshmallows in buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 1 hour. Serve plain or with chocolate sauce, for six persons.

Tuna Celery Patties

A creamy dish to be served on patty shells or on toast is usually very acceptable at lunch time. This one is made with celery soup and flaked tuna fish.

1 Tbsp. fat 1 1/2 C. flaked tuna
1 1/2 Tbsp. flour 1 fish
1/2 C. milk 1 pimiento

Cause for Divorce

REDWOOD CITY, Cal.—Mrs. Jennie Chiw has been a close observer of the American scene since she came here from China. Her husband, Toy Chiw, San Mateo grocer, filed a divorce complaint in Superior Court here charging that his wife refused to obey him.

"In China, wife has to obey husband," Mrs. Chiw told Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt. "In America she doesn't. She can boss him around."

BURNS LAKE, B. C.—Traffic rangers are not confined to the big cities or crowded highways. Mrs. Paddy Carrell, owner and driver of a fast dog team, discovered in the wide open stretches about Decker Lake when she and her dog team encountered a bull moose on the trail.

The eager dogs flew in pursuit, overturning the sleigh and tearing through brush and windfall until stopped by Mrs. Carrell, who was badly bruised and cut.

1 pound round steak
1 pound veal steak
1/2 pound suet
Skewers

Cut meat in about 3-inch squares, pound each piece on both sides with rough edge of meat hammer—then place a piece of veal on a piece of beef and pound again, put a small piece of suet in the center and roll up—cut in two and hold together with skewer. Dredge in flour with a teaspoon of baking powder sifted in it, salt and pepper. Brown in frying pan using about two tablespoons of shortening. Put meat in small roaster, add a little water in pan the meat was browned in and pour over the meat and bake in 375 degree oven one hour. Serve on points of toast with a paper frill on each steak. This recipe makes six servings.

SPANISH CORN

Use whole kernel corn to each can of corn saute in one tablespoon of shortening, 2 tablespoons each of finely cut onion, green pepper, and pimiento. Add corn, salt and pepper to taste, 1 tablespoon of butter, bake in 375-degree oven or cook slowly on top of range 15 minutes.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup peanut butter
2 eggs
3 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend shortening, sugar and eggs together, add peanut butter, vanilla and sifted dry ingredients. Shape with hands into small balls, put on greased cookie sheet, flatten and decorate with lines of silver fork. Bake in 400-degree oven. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

GRAHAM CRACKER CAKE

1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
3 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1 teaspoon cinnamon
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend shortening, sugar and eggs together, add crackers, rolled, cinnamon, baking powder alternately with the milk. Fold in beaten egg whites. Bake in two layers in 350-degree oven about 35 minutes.

MOCHA CREAM FILLING

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons coffee
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups flour
2 eggs yolks
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Cook coffee in milk five minutes, strain and pour over sugar and flour mixed together. Cook in double boiler 15 minutes. Pour over beaten egg yolks, cook just a little longer, add vanilla.

PINEAPPLE CAKE

1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup pineapple juice
2 1/2 cups flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
2 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 egg whites

Blend shortening and sugar, sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add alternately with the milk and pineapple juice. Add vanilla. Fold in the beaten egg whites. Bake in two well greased and floured cake pans for 30 minutes in 350 degree oven.

Filling—
1 small can shredded pineapple
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons corn starch
Pinch of salt
Cook until thick and clear, put between layers of cake. Decorate top with sweetened whipped cream.

FRENCH COFFEE

The French like coffee made very strongly by allowing the water to drip through the very finely and very freshly ground coffee just once. This is known as the French Drip Method. For coffee made according to this method allow 1 rounding teaspoon to the cup of freshly boiling water.

ROLLED CHEESE SANDWICHES

Cut the crusts from regular sliced bread. Spread with butter and then with grated plain yellow cheese. Roll up like a jelly roll. Put open side down on a pan and toast in oven. A delicious accompaniment with salad or for afternoon tea.

MAKING GOOD TEA AN ART

Making good tea is truly an art. Even the men know it warms the heart.

This Map of India that I show to you is your assurance of the best tea, too.

Use a teaspoon of tea for each cup and an extra spoonful for the pot. Have the water "hard boiling hot." Scald the pot. Pour the water on the tea and allow to draw for at least five minutes. If tea ball is used remove after five minutes, if not strain off into another teapot ready to serve.

PEPPERMINT CANDY ICE CREAM

1/2 lb. peppermint stick candy
1 cup milk
1-16 teaspoon salt
2 cups whipping cream
Dissolve candy in milk. If necessary heat slightly in top of double boiler. Add salt. Cool. Pour into mixing bowl and place into refrigerator to chill. Add the whipped cream. Pour into tray and freeze. If ingredients settle, stir with a spoon from front to back of tray and allow to finish freezing without stirring.

TOSSED SALAD

The backbone, so to speak, of any salad is lettuce—have it crisp and cold. Cut it into the salad bowl. Add tomatoes cut in pieces, cucumbers, young onions, diced celery. Sprinkle with salt and combine with French dressing or mayonnaise, tossing the vegetable over and over until well blended with the dressing. Serve very cold.

Akron Solon Asks Probe Of Liquor Store Choices

COLUMBUS, March 22.—A thorough investigation of charges that merit was subordinate to politics in appointments made by the state liquor department under the civil service law was promised today by Sen. Carl D. Sheppard (R) Akron, if the senate passes its resolution authorizing the probe.

Unless the Sheppard resolution is shunted aside by the resolutions committee, it was to come up for a vote in the upper branch of the legislature this afternoon. Sheppard claimed to have enough votes lined up to insure its passage.

"Reports are current," his resolution stated, "that merit is being subordinated for political reasons, notwithstanding that untold effort has been put forth in Ohio to prevent the use of state office as a means of building up political parties."

CONFER WITH WATSON

Although Gov. George White and Col. John A. Huggins, director of the liquor department, are reported to have conferred with Dr. Carl Watson, Democratic state chairman, on lists certified by the civil service commission for appointments to positions in state liquor stores, the governor stated that politics played an important part in appointments.

"Many of the appointments," he said, "have gone to Republicans. In all cases, merit has been the chief requirement for selection."

Sheppard did not suggest in the resolution the names of senators he would like appointed on the investigating committee, but it is customary to name the sponsor of such resolution as chairman. Five investigators would be appointed by the lieutenant governor. They would be required to submit their report to the senate by July 1, or in event the senate is not in session then, to the clerk of the senate.

An opponent of the state monopoly from the outset, Sheppard has been one of the severest critics of the present liquor control policy.

Child of Sorrow

On the point of starvation, this three-year-old baby, Katherine Wilson, was found beside the dead body of her mother in their home at Mount Vernon, N. Y. The mother had been dead for four days, during which the child stayed by the body, eating scraps she found on the floor.

"One finally began talking over the phone to a man he called Al. He wanted to borrow Al's automobile for a job, and finally invited Al to come to the station."

Noice said, he followed the two men and took a seat near them.

"I pretended to be asleep," said Noice, "so they would talk without fear in my presence. One of them asked me for a match, but I did not open my eyes. He said: 'The guy's asleep, all right.'"

"I heard one of them say something about kidnapping, adding, 'he makes a couple of grand a week; they'll pay off for the Crosby kid, all right. I always wanted to take a crack at a crooner.'"

"This led me to deduce the conspirators were talking about the child of Bing Crosby. One said: 'I think Bertha can take care of the kid.'"

Arthur Miller, convicted murderer who formerly was a cellmate of Dillinger when the latter was held in the county jail for bank banditry, took the stand as a state witness and said that Dillinger had boasted two weeks in advance of the jail delivery that he would be "sprung."

TOLD OF PLANS

According to Miller, the desperado had declared that Harry Pierpont, Charles Makley, Edward Shouse, John Hamilton, Joseph Jenkins and Clark would raid the jail. Pierpont and Makley already have been tried and convicted of slaying Sheriff Sarber and are awaiting sentence to the electric chair.

Miller testified that Dillinger once was visited in jail here by an attorney, Vernon Kokomo, Ind., three days before the jail delivery. The witness reported overhearing a conversation by the attorney, that "I've taken care of the boys at Michigan City and they'll be after you."

Other than the elaboration of Miller's testimony the trial, in the words of Jessie Levv, defense attorney, was a "photographic record" of the previous trials of Pierpont and Makley. Clark's trial also is marked by an increasing tenseness.

DISCUSS HIGHWAY

MT. STERLING, March 22.—Many persons spoke in favor of the state taking over the road from Mt. Sterling to Waterloo and southeast to the Circleville-New Holland road when a hearing was held in the town hall here.

Decision of the highway department will be announced in a short time.

There has been a great deficiency in temperature so far this year, but if this summer makes up for it that will not make things right.

the situation "looked good." This was an abrupt switch from his feeling of Tuesday night when he would not risk a prediction of success.

Participants in the executives' White House conference refused to talk as they emerged from the conference. From other sources it was learned that Mr. Roosevelt directed them to act to avert a strike, and backed this up by outlining his powers to compel peaceful compromise.

Mr. Roosevelt holds a "big stick" in the form of his powers to license industry under the Industrial Recovery act.

The president was thoroughly advised as to his authority in the dispute. He called Attorney General Cummings in for an hour's conference after the automobile executives left. Asked if he thought Mr. Roosevelt would win out in his move for peace, The attorney general finally said: "I don't see many clouds up there in the sky."

ASK LICENSING

Green and his colleagues came to the White House determined to ask that the president use his licensing power to settle the trouble if the automobile executives refused to yield to labor's demands. The labor people want recognition of workers' representatives for collective bargaining whether these rep-representatives be A. F. of L. men or not. The executives assert they will bargain collectively with the men, but not with the A. F. of L. The union leaders from Detroit, Pontiac, Flint and Cleveland conferred throughout the morning at the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor. William Green, president of the A. F. of L., participated.

It was decided that a delegation of twelve should go to the White House, ten being active union leaders from the motor cities, and Green and Edward McGrady, assistant secretary of Labor.

After their morning parley, they went to the NRA for conference with Gen. Hugh S. Johnson.

RUNDOWN, NERVOUS?

WHEN you feel run-down, when your blood is thin or stomach gives you trouble, with gas, or "sour risings," try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If you are thin-blooded, need to put on healthy flesh—this is the tonic for you. Mrs. Della Corbin of 707 E. Main St., Springfield, Ohio, says: "A few years ago I was very nervous, had dull headaches, no appetite, suffered from pains in my right side, my food became thin and watery and I felt weak and tired all the time. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery proved to be a fine tonic. I gained strength, and was soon feeling normal again." Sold by druggists.

Our idea of a modest man is one who can keep his opinion of himself to himself.

Whose Fault

Fitful Sleep or Bad Dreams

Fitful, fretful slumber and those "bad dreams" are sometimes caused by eating things hard to digest, or eating too near bedtime. But a more common cause is constipation. If clogged with waste, a child can't relax; the whole system becomes affected. You just can't give the ordinary cathartic at such an hour. (Indeed, laxatives of adult strength are never suitable for children.) See next column for a way to make the child comfortable for the night, and insure the needed bowel movement next morning.

To turn a nervous, worried child into a peaceful little sleeper, try two teaspoonfuls of a delicious fruity syrup you can get from our druggist. Just have him take a bottle of California Syrup. Any boy or girl will love it. It starts at once to sweeten the bilious system; and next morning after moving about, the child has a thorough, natural action from the laxative effect of the senna, if it is California Syrup of Fig.

Clipping Dividend Coupons From Your Gas Bill

SUPPOSE that you were to set aside your savings on using gas each time your gas bill is paid. For general household purposes you would find the amount you save, compared with the cost of the next least expensive fuel, would be more than you pay for gas. Setting aside this amount would be similar to clipping dividend coupons from your gas bill. If your family is of average size and isn't wasteful of the fuel, you would find these monthly dividends amount to $2.25 for gas refrigeration, $2.18 for cooking with gas and $1.00 for using gas to heat water. These savings are based on the use of gas selling for an average price of 75 cents per 1000 cubic feet. Thus, it can be seen that a rate which allows a small earning for the company, still leaves a handsome profit for the customer.

Many customers still use gas for its convenience, cleanliness and efficiency, without a thought of its value. Yet, all of us are as greatly concerned with the value as we are with the price of any other commodity. In your own mind, can you judge the fairness of the price of gas without, also, giving some consideration to its value?

Action on Conservancy Measure Seen This Week

COLUMBUS, March 22.—Possible action this week by the house of representatives on the two Bittinger bills enabling the state to bear its portion of the $35,000,000 Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District flood prevention project cost was foreseen today.

Unless the house become embroiled in controversial taxation problems, leaders of the lower house were of the opinion that the bills would come up for final passage before the week-end recess. They expected both bills to pass, but not without bitter debate.

There was not a dissenting vote against a motion of Rep. J. Freer Bittinger (D) Ashland, to report his bill permitting the highway department to go ahead with the relocation of roads in the conservancy district, out of the highway committee last night.

Carrying a recommendation for passage, the highway relocation bill was reported out of committee by a vote of 14 to 0, with

Reps. Kalb (D) Port Clinton; Ingersoll (R) Warren, and Taft (R) Cleveland, present but not voting.

FAVORABLE MEMBERS

Members of the committee voting favorably on the bill were Bittinger (D) Ashland; Byrne (D) Toledo; Maxwell (D) Hicksville; Moore (D) Piketon; Roach (D) North Baltimore; Smith (D) Cincinnati; Traxler (D) Wyandot; Uible (D) Cleveland; Deibel (R) Medina; Glenn (R) Coshocton; Niday (R) Gallipolis; Richards (R) Carrollton; Van Ness (R) Mechanicsburg, and Niswonger (D) Dayton.

Previously the house finance committee had voted 15 to 0 to recommend passage of the companion Bittinger measure which appropriates $2,000,000 from the general revenue fund as the state's share of construction costs. This bill was sixth on the house calendar today, but because of the importance of bill ahead of it there was little possibility of it coming up for a vote until later.

H. P. Chapman, assistant state highway director, appeared before the highway committee with data on the relocation of roads necessary in conjunction with the gigantic flood prevention project.

RELOCATE 138 MILES

It was his estimate that 46 miles of state highway would have to be relocated at an estimated cost of $2,130,000 while construction of the 14 dams in the conservancy district was in progress. Later he said 138 miles of additional roads would be relocated.

"This does not appear to be as serious a problem for the highway department as it at first appeared to be," said Chapman. "It would not interfere with or hamper the normal highway construction program in other parts of the state for us to go ahead with relocation asked by the conservancy district."

He estimated that 14 or 15 state roads would have to be relocated in the 16 counties in the conservancy district, but he said there relocation would put all of them out of danger from future floods.

City Reduces Tax

CINCINNATI. — Because of "unexpected revenues" 1934 tax bills here will be about 12 per cent lower than those of 1933, according to City Manager C. A. Dykstra. The city treasury received "certain unexpected revenues" during 1933, all of which were guarded rigidly to give a surplus into 1934, the city manager explained. He said the sum to be collected from general taxes for municipal purposes in 1934 is $7,642,349, or $16.36 per person.

MOST DELIGHTFUL DRAMATIC PLAYS OF SEASON HERE

An afternoon and evening of great dramatic interest is promised to the audiences of Circleville and Pickaway-co Friday, March 23, when James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce and their Company will appear at the High School auditorium in a matinee performance of "The Merchant of Venice" and an evening of "Macbeth."

The press throughout the country has lauded the work of Mr. Hendrickson and Miss Bruce and their company. That they have consented to appear in Circleville is a distinct compliment to our city and we are pleased to learn that students and teachers all over the county realize this and are planning to see at least one performance. They will learn to understand Shakespeare in a manner that no amount of reading can give them. Alive as the words may be in themselves, they take on added life and new charm when spoken in the resonant tones and delicate inflection and the poetic beauty which the great English genius has left to all those who speak his tongue.

The conception behind this effort is sound, is evidenced by the enthusiasm with which educational institutions have opened their auditoriums to the players, who, in their seven years of touring, have appeared in forty-one states, and have established a fine reputation for artistic excellence.

ASHVILLE SCHOOL NOTES

Dickie Messick, Freddie Puckett and Floridene Snyder of the first grade, have been absent all week on account of sickness.

The first grade made kites this week. They were very successful.

Mrs. S. F. Hinkle visited the first grade Thursday afternoon. A booklet on Holland has been started. As they have nearly completed "Hans and Hilda," they will make cut-out pictures of the story for their book.

In our bird contest this week, the first graders found that the "Robin Family" was more prevalent. We began our reading circle two weeks ago. Many of the children have read three of the books listed.

Helen Irwin of the second grade is still out of school. Katherine Johnson also is absent.

On Wednesday and Thursday afternoon the second graders have been listening to the Story Hour. They have read several of the stories and they intend to dramatize the stories they know.

The 5th grade had two interesting exhibits this week; the one-old coins and the other-white sand from Florida and soil from Georgia. The soil was of a reddish-brown color and as someone mentioned, resembled cocoa.

The coin exhibit included old pennies, a half-penny, a 1-4 rupee from India, and others from China, Canada, Spain, England, and France.

The following 5th grade students have been neither absent nor tardy so far this school year: Betty Brinker, Mary Louise Gerhardt, Margaret Glick, Beatrice Gibbs, Ray Kraft, Doris Cline, and Clarence Rush.

The pupils of grade six are working on a freeze of Japan for their bulletin board. For the divisions of their picture they have chosen a Japanese temple, the old Taiko Bridge, and natives harvesting rice with the volcano, Fujiyama in the background.

The 8th grade Geography class is reviewing the location of the principal cities, water bodies, and national parks in the United States by means of a series of maps made by the pupils. Some of these maps have been very neat and well made and are on display on the 8th grade bulletin board.

Yet you still find pre-depression cheer in regions where nothing less than six hounds is considered a set.

COLLUM IN CHARGE

Max O. Collum, who will put on the meat cutting demonstration at Memorial Hall, Friday evening, is manager of the advertising department of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, Chicago, Illinois.

This board is organized to promote the live stock industry and to promote the use of meat and meat products. He is an expert meat cutter and has charge of that phase of work, demonstrating cuts of meat and educating housewives as to the quality of meat and instructs how to buy better meat.

He will use one-half beef and lamb in his demonstration, showing the cuts, and name, approximate price per cut.

Word Volume Alarms

CINCINNATI. — Alarm at "the flow of words which is closing in on us from all sides, over the air, through the press and magazines, forums and even in the pulpit," was expressed here by Dr. Edward C. Jenkins, president of George Williams College, Chicago. "There is no help for us unless we can dam up this flow of words, cut them off, and interpret them into actual participation in many things discussed and written about," he said.

When the average man sets out to make a fool of himself he is using the cheapest material available.

Slammer' of Golf Faces
Field At Augusta;
Study Outcome.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 22.—The spotlight and sweep of the curtain at the dogwood Augusta National today on the supreme sports drama of the century.

After a four-year self-imposed exile from the fairways over which he blazed a meteoric streak for fourteen summers, that amazing young Southern lawyer, Robert Jones, Jr., is on the loose again.

There never was an event quite so approach this return from a sports elope. Perhaps there never will be. Bobby, with everything to lose and nothing to gain, is placing the bright record of his dashing career that he climaxed in 1930 with his grand slam win of the American and British open and amateur championships on the altar of sports where it might be blasted by a single stroke of ill luck.

WORLD'S BEST THERE
With characteristic bold courage he has stacked tremendous odds against himself and flung a challenge of "come and get me" to a picked field of the world's most able golfers. To dedicate a course in his native state to the game he loves Bobby is giving "the field" one final crack at him.

And with blood in their eyes, the opposing teams that concentrated on putting Red Grange out of the game when he was galloping to successive touchdowns, the sixty odd crack professionals and amateurs gathered here today in a festive ambush. The scores on their score cards read "Bobby Jones" instead of par.

Veterans who have met him on famous battlefields of America and Britain, have gone down to successive defeats before his uncanny genius and love him, and sharp-shooting youngsters who will be taking their first shot at him, are armed with the single burning ambition of beating the greatest player of them all.

Into this historic Savannah community thousands have

Training Camp Notes

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 22.—Interviews to the contrary notwithstanding, Bill Terry is plainly worried over the manner in which his world's champion Giants have been losing exhibition games.

The other day Bill remarked that spring games "didn't mean a thing" while trying to explain away three successive defeats by the Cardinals, but today he had no answer for the 2 to 1 trouncing administered to his team by the Browns yesterday.

The two clubs meet again today and Bill will try to avenge the loss.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22.—Ben Chapman, fleet Alabama outfielder of the New York Yankees, who was hailed a few years back as the successor of Ty Cobb as the speed king of the majors, is going to think more about base-stealing and less about hitting from now on, he revealed today. Chappie has been working out steadily on the base paths at Miller Huggins field here.

TAMPA, Fla., March 22.—The Brooklyn Dodgers were in Tampa today for a game with the Cincinnati Reds and they were none too pleased over their 3-2 defeat at the hands of the Phillies in Winter Haven yesterday. To add to their discomfort was the news that Al Lopez, star catcher, is still a holdout. Business Manager Bob Quinn was slated to make Lopez a final offer today. Al's home is in Tampa.

jammed, crowding hotels to the bursting point, to witness the event. Ten thousand are expected in the gallery by the final round. The show began today at 10 a. m. (EST).

Ralph Stonehouse, of Indianapolis, and John Kinder, of Subury Park, N. J., lead off the pack. The field moves out in twosomes at seven-minute intervals.

PLAYS WITH RUNYAN
Bobby is right in front of the starters and is teamed with the man who is even money with him to win. Lawyer Jones and Paul Runyan, the 25-year-old White Plains, N. Y., sensation who has lined his bank account with the best pickings of the winter golf circuit, drive off at 10:35.

About This And That

BY THE
SECOND GUESSER

ANOTHER great 'boo' favorite of the Columbus baseball fans has passed on. * * * Clyde (Pea Ridge) Day, former Kansas City and Minneapolis right hander, slashed his throat in a Kansas City hotel using a hunting knife as the death weapon. * * * Day, a pretty good pitcher, was the hog-calling champion of the association and was a mighty tough nut to crack when he was right. * * * He had been suffering frequent lapses of memory and had been under treatment in a hospital before he committed his act.

Columbus moguls are getting tired of discussing salary with Ralph Judd and Glenn Spencer, right-handed pitchers. * * * Both have been ordered to report or take a salary slash. * * * Charlie "Swamp Baby" Wilson, who is expected to hold down third base for the Birdies, has signed his contract and is about ready for action. * * * If Wilson continues the type of baseball he played while in the association last year they are going to need some new slats or the right field wall.

One of sports' oddities is reported from the high school where a basketball team was held scoreless. * * * Monday evening the Sophs beat the Juniors. * * * Wednesday evening the Juniors returned the compliment but held the Sophomores without a point. * * * The Sophs are claiming a relay several of the players took part in as their abili. * * * Anyway the score stands.

It doesn't take these Notre Dame athletes long to get jobs. * * * "Moose" Krause, football tackle and basketball center who graduates in June, has already been signed as head coach of St. Mary's college, Winona, Minn.

Some baseball slang phrases: Bad news, contract with reduced salary; Baltimore chop, boundary that hits the plate and bounces high in the air; Brannan stalk, a bat with poor wood in it; Barber, a player who does a lot of talking; Barker, coach at first base.

The Juniors turned the tables on the Sophomores, Wednesday evening, handed their earlier conquerors a 16-0 defeat. The score sounds like a football game but basketball was the pastime.

The Junior defense was just too much for the Sophs who won a game earlier in the week by a 29-9 count with the Juniors as the losers.

Sophomore girls defeated the Jr.-Sr aggregation, 11-7.

The lineup:

JUNIORS—16
Kirwin, C. 2 0 3
Cable, F. 1 0 1
Jenkins, G. 1 0 2
Osborn, G. 1 0 6
Judas, G. 0 1 1

Totals 7 2 16
The Sophomores used Sykes, Scott, Andrews, Plum Melson, Baggett, Friley, Dean, McGinnis, Griffith, and Harden in an unsuccessful effort to score.

Bowling News
The Baker Specials in near millions, will tumble with the Washington C. H. J. C. team. Co. bowling team were Friday evening the match beginning at 8 p. m.

What a world! Millions spent to kill crop pests; more millions spent to save farm animals; and pest didn't destroy enough.

Junior Campbell of the class of '35 came back and visited the high school on Monday. He is a student at Ohio State University and is spending Easter vacation with his mother Mrs. Florence Campbell.

The Clarkburg orchestra will come here to help furnish the music for our senior class play and we will go down there and assist theirs.

Athletic News:
The seventh grade boys, the senior boys and the freshman girls were winners of the interclass basketball tournament.

The seventh graders won from the eighth and then conquered the fifth and sixth grades.

The senior boys in the finals with the juniors as their opponents looked to be losing the first half but the second half added to the score of the seniors and when the whistle blew they were victors over the juniors by several points. The sophomores won the consolation game.

During the freshman, senior girls tangle the score was tied several times but during the last part of the game the frosh team gained and kept a lead of several points. The final score was 23 to 19.

BASKETBALL BANQUET

The parents of the members of the squads gave a banquet for all those who played basketball the entire season whether a member of the high school teachers, of the squad or not, the cheer lead Friday evening, March 16, at 6:30 o'clock.

The cafeteria was beautifully decorated in green and white producing a fine setting for the delicious menu.

Mr. Sponsler, the toastmaster, gave a short talk and immediately following this called for responses from Lola Hoover, William Sampson, Harriett Cullins, Charles Bartholomew, Agnes Lynch, and Wayne Brown all senior members of the squad. Next were toasts by the coaches Loudenslager and Griffith.

Mr. Deckrosh was called upon for a toast which ended the session in the cafeteria.

The next attraction was in the auditorium where a short program was given. Elizabeth Reber sang two Irish songs, Ann Reber gave a humorous Irish reading, the boys' sextette sang two songs. Mark Dunkel was called on for a surprise toast at the conclusion of this program.

Mr. Sponsler then announced a girls vs. boys basketball game with the boys wearing the girls' ancient uniforms. The floor was instantly cleared for the contest. When the boys appeared on the floor the crowd not only cheered but they laughed out loud. The game was the most comical ever witnessed on the Walnut court. Girls' rules were played and the boys could not shoot from inside the foul line. After the boys had a lead they did most of their shooting back past the center line. The game ended 16 to 6 in favor of the boys. This banquet was probably the most successful of any at Walnut for a long time.

The closing event of the evening was a game between the varsity girls and the varsity boys playing girls' rules. No boys were allowed within the foul line.

The Home Economics Department and F. F. A. boys are giving a parent, daughter and son banquet. The banquet was planned for the entertainment of the parents. All parents who have boys in the school are urged to attend. The banquet will be held at the school building on Thursday evening March 29.

parent. Just one year ago, with factory wheels almost stopped, trade stagnant, and banks closed, business would have accepted any program and been grateful. But with every breath of new life pumped into its ailing carcass, business became more confident, more stubborn, more rebellious. It is the old story of the patient who throw the doctor's orders away as soon as he got back on his legs.

The effect of this is noticeable on the President. He has not exactly pulled his punch, but he has become more cautious. Where once he was vigorous in his private support of the Stock Market bill, recently he has become publicly reticent. Where once he directed Professor Tugwell to write the controversial Food and Drugs Act, its passage.

PICKAWAY T. A. HAS INTERESTING PROGRAM

The Pickaway-twp. Parent-Teachers' association enjoyed an interesting program at the school Wednesday evening, consisting of music, magic and an address by Supt. M. C. Warren.

In his educational and patriotic talk, Mr. Warren proved very "conclusively" that too much money is being spent on the free democratic schools for which America is noted. Four items—candy, theatres, chewing gum and tobacco—take seven billion dollars annually from Americans. The money spent last year for one of these items alone, tobacco, is just equal to the amount used by the state of Ohio for financing its public schools from 1920 to the present time. Schools cost too much, tobacco doesn't.

Excellent music was furnished by the high school orchestra and Miss Ruth McKenzie with her tricks of magic kept the audience in constant fear of losing their hats, rings and coins.

A covered-dish supper preceded the devotionals which were in charge of Raymond Paxton.

During the business session several reports were made by committee chairmen and a new committee for the pre-school clinic was appointed by the president Mrs. Ralph Head. This committee is comprised of Mrs. Carl Porter chairman, Mrs. Marvin Dreisbach, Mrs. Andrew Warner, Mrs. Orrin Dreisbach, Mrs. Sam McKenzie and Mrs. Cera Hood.

Mrs. Bernard W. Young, Miss Kathleen Dilaver and Mrs. Shirley Dreisbach were named on the nominating committee to select candidates for the election of officers.

The officers for the next year will be chosen at the final meeting which is tentatively set for Tuesday, April 24.
